NO CHANCE FOR SUFFRAGISTS IN PRESENT SESSION

Chairman Webb Informs the Leaders That a Campaign
Has Halted Things

LOBBYING, UNIONS ARE TO BE PROBED

Democratic Members Blocking Submission Last Session Worked Against

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Chairman Webb of the House Judiciary committee, today informed the suffragists that there is no chance of the suffrage constitutional amendment being acted upon during this session because the Congressional Union members have campaigned against the Democratic members who blocked submission at the last session. Members of the committee intimated that an investigation of unions and lobbying is being seriously discussed.

MILLIONS OF SERB WOMEN FACING STARVATION

(By William G. Shepherd, United Press Staff.)

SALONIKI, Dec. 16.—Millions of Serbian girls are facing terrible suffering and possibly death from lack of food and clothing or a fate worse than death at the hands of roving irregulars.

Well clothed and fed the allies' soldiers suffered severely from the cold in southern Serbia.

What has happened to the Serbian women left behind the world only guesses.

Serbia has ordered the men and boys to leave the villages to join the retreating armies. Serbia ordered the women to remain and care for the villages.

In other countries the women said farewell to the men and saw them depart for the war. In Serbia the women said farewell, then awaited the approach of war's horrors.

The women depend on America for relief.

American relief must go through Germany, not Saloniki.

1 HURT, 1 DYING IN EL MONTE ACCIDENT

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—Turning aside to avoid running down another automobile, A. C. Pendleton of 502 Echo Park avenue and T. L. Cotton of 2149 Sunset boulevard were probably fatally injured yesterday when their machine turned over. Dr. Wiley, chief surgeon at the Receiving Hospital, stated that there was no chance for the recovery of Cotton.

The two men were driving toward this city after a day spent in the country. Half a mile from El Monte they came suddenly on another machine and made a sharp turn to avoid a wreck. The machine overturned. Pendleton was injured on the head and Cotton was probably fatally injured.

Pendleton wandered away from the wreck and his moans were heard by a constable at El Monte. Then followed a chase of nearly two miles before the injured man could be captured.

Dr. Wiley was sent for and he battled for two hours for the life of Cotton. He stated that Cotton was dying and the condition of Pendleton was critical.

PAYS $40,000 FOR PLOT IN CEMETERY

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—John S. Phipps, son of Henry C. Phipps, formerly president of the United States Steel Corporation, is the owner of the most expensive plot in Greenwood cemetery. It has become known that several weeks ago he paid $40,000 for the ground.

WAR TAX MEASURE TO GO THROUGH

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—A test vote today indicated the passage of the administration's bill proposing a year's extension of the war tax. Majority Leader Kitchin said that the law is necessary to prevent a treasury deficit. Minority Leader Mann called the measure "nefarious."

Tells Bravery of American Woman Amid Shell Fire

Physician, Matron Refuse To Flee As Bulgar Shells
Fall In Piro

BY WILBUR S. FORREST
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Dec. 16.—Lady Sybil Finlay today returned from the Serbian trail of horrors. She related a story of the bravery of Dr. Richard Jett, an American physician, and Matron Anna Dull, when Piro, Serbia, was under fire. The Bulgarian shells were hitting all around the hospital. The doctor and matron refused to flee. Even when the city was evacuated the two held their places. They remained alone caring for the desperately wounded. Finally the authorities insisted that they leave. They were under fire for several hours while wounded were several hours while wounded were From Nish the party again was compelled to flee. On account of his bravery, Dr. Jett was created a Serbian army captain.

U. S. TURNS BRITISH COINS INTO BULLION

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—The local assay office has just finished turning $102,500,000 in British sovereigns, which have been imported since October 27, into gold bars. The bars have been deposited in a vault in the sub-treasury and they make a pile of more than three cords.

In the pile, which is six feet high, are 16,345 bars, each worth about $7000 and about seven inches in height. The bars are laid in nineteen rows and make a total weight of some 200 tons.

SAN ANTONIO-AUSTIN ROAD NEARLY READY

AUSTIN, Tex., Dec. 16.—The San Antonio-Austin post road, the first built in Texas, was practically completed today. It is eighty-four miles long and cost $200,000. The government paid one-third of this and the remainder of the expense was borne by the five counties it traverses. It is planned to plant 15,000 shade trees along the road next spring.

MRS. PANKHURST'S TYPE CONFISCATED AS BOBBIES MAKE RAID

LONDON, Dec. 16.—Police today raided the Pankhurst militant suffragette headquarters. They confiscated type used in printing the newspaper "Britannia," formerly "The Suffragette."

WOMAN, 76, DIES AS AIRCRAFT COLLAPSES

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 16.—Mrs. T. A. Comstock, 76, was killed and Aviator O. S. Mayerhoffer painfully injured today when Mayerhoffer's aeroplane collapsed and fell 100 feet into the bay. The aged woman was his passenger.

Both were rushed aboard the battleship Oregon. All attempts to save the woman's life failed.

HAVE U. S. ARMY EMPLOYED IN RECLAMATION WORKS PLAN

Better Than 150,000 Idlers Says Senator Addressing Senate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Senator Works of California, today addressing the Senate, advocated an army in engineering and hardened to campaign rigors, through the task of reclaiming lands, reforesting large tracts of western lands and protecting the Mississippi valley from floods.

Senator Works claimed that such an army would dissipate all unpreparedness evils and obviate the danger of creating a military caste.

The plan would provide for an army of soldiers engaged in useful work instead of idling.

Senator Works said the force should do the most in the west, because the Japanese on the Pacific coast had more veteran soldiers than the American regular army boasted.

"Such an army would open up vast tracts and help to empty the city slums. It would be a better force to defend us than 150,000 paid idlers."

BIG SHAKE UP IN BRITISH ARMY IMMINENT

LONDON, Dec. 16.—Further removals of army commanders today are expected to follow the transfer of Sir John French to the command of the United Kingdom armies and the appointment of Sir Douglas Haig to the command of the field armies. A big shake-up is reported imminent.

PROGRESSIVES TO WAIT DEVELOPMENTS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—With the date of the Republican convention set for June 7 at Chicago, one week ahead of the Democratic convention, the way was opened today for the Progressive party to fulfill its resolve made several weeks ago to await developments in the Republican and Democratic ranks.

In going to Chicago it is the determination of the Republican leaders to ignore the Roosevelt sentiment in Chicago and proceed with the convention as if no Roosevelt existed.

One member of the national committee declared that the Republican leaders believe that by sending the convention to Chicago the breach between the Republicans and those who left the party to follow Roosevelt will be healed. He declared the committee does not look upon another Roosevelt outbreak as a menace.

WANT VESSELS BACK IN LUMBER BUSINESS

PORTLAND, Dec. 16.—Spurred by a fourth advance in rates on lumber between Portland and California ports, owners of steamers on this coast are eager to get their vessels back into the lumber carrying service. It is said that at least a dozen vessels will be returned to this service shortly.

Lumber rates to San Francisco are now $5 a thousand feet, and to San Pedro $5.50. Every available vessel in sight is being taken for this service and the demand is said by lumbermen to warrant hopes of a continued prosperity.

NEW DEMAND ON AUSTRIA NEAR: REPLY TO U. S. IS EVASIVE

Note to Be More Serious Than Ever In Requiring Ancona Disavowal

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The State Department late today received a code cablegram from Ambassador Penfield at Vienna. Secretary Lansing said that the cable is probably a forecast of Austria's reply.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The administration today is considering a new and more serious demand on Austria for a disavowal of the Ancona torpedoing.

Austria's reply to the first note is pronounced evasive and unsatisfactory.

The new note will curiously demand instant compliance with the American requests.

The Austrians are regarded as playing for time.

No Official Reply

Early today the State Department had no official word from Vienna whatever on Austria's reply to the Ancona note. Secretary Lansing read the London dispatches containing excerpts of the Austrian rejoinder, but reserved any comment until he has received the full official text from Ambassador Penfield.

It was made clear authoritatively, however, that if the whole text of the reply was in the same tone as the cabled extracts it would be regarded by the United States as unsatisfactory.

To Reject Correspondence

It was made plain that the United States will not accept the suggestion of entering into diplomatic correspondence which may be prolonged.

One official of the State Department who spoke with full knowledge of its policy, declared positively that the United States would not enter into any exchange of opinions as Austria's reply suggested, and would absolutely refuse to enter into any discussion of the facts.

LONDON, Dec. 16.—Amsterdam reports today said that Vienna views the Ancona case pessimistically. The Austrians believe that Ambassador Zweiden's recall is imminent.

LONDON, Dec. 16.—Newspapers today believed that the Austrian reply to the American Ancona note is a mere play for time. The Westminster Gazette said that Austria is adopting the same tactics that Germany adopted during the German-American submarine disputes. The paper inquired whether America is willing to stand for such methods.

GENEVA, Dec. 16.—Vienna dispatches today indicate that the Austrian government believes that the reply to the American note will be satisfactory to Washington, anticipates further friendly exchanges, and an eventual settlement of the case.

BRITAIN NOT TO PERMIT FORD'S PARTY ASHORE

LONDON, Dec. 16.—Press reports today indicate that the government does not intend to permit the Henry Ford peace party to land at Kirkwall, Scotland.

LONDON, Dec. 16.—The American legations at Christiania, Stockholm and Copenhagen today issued bulletins declaring that the American government is not connected with the Ford peace expedition.

SUES TO HAVE BARNES MOVE VENICE CIRCUS

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—Declaring that it is unpleasant to awake in the night and hear the subtle voices of laughing hyenas, lions, tigers and elephants, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Miller of Zeno place, Venice, filed suit in the superior court asking that the circus grounds occupied by Al G. Barnes and his equipment be removed from the lot adjoining the Miller home.

NEGROES SEND ARSON THREAT DALLAS, TEX., Dec. 16.—Two men campaigning in favor of segregating negroes today received a letter reading: "This is a warning to leave segregation alone. Otherwise every house in Deep Park will soon burn. This is a last warning. Leave us negroes alone."

STRIKE IS BROKEN

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—The fifteen thousand striking garment workers probably will resume work before Christmas. The backbone of the eleven weeks strike has been broken. The police have been withdrawn from the garment factories.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16.—Col. John Gardner, superintendent of recruiting, today said that San Francisco leads all American cities in the number of men enlisted in proportion to cities of its size. The war has not affected enlistments, he says.

WOMAN IDENTIFIES SCHMIDT AT TRIAL

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—Mrs. A. Peterson of Oakland today testifying at the Schmidt trial, identified Schmidt as the man who visited her house shortly before the Times explosion, trying to buy a launch. It is alleged that Schmidt later rented the launch Peerless and transferred dynamite from Giant to Los Angeles.

FEAR VIOLENCE IN BIG RAILWAY STRIKE

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—With 6000 cars, many of them loaded with perishable freight, stalled by the strike of the engineers, firemen and yardmen of the Belt Railroad Company of Chicago, hundreds of deputies and guards patrolled the yards yesterday prepared to resist possible attempts at violence on the part of the strikers and their sympathizers.

The company expected to employ strike-breakers yesterday afternoon and the real crisis of the strike may develop.

Nearly 600 men are out.

ABANDON LEAKING SWEDISH VESSEL

GALVESTON, Tex., Dec. 16.—The Swedish bark Karolina, with bulk sulphur, from Freeport to Gothenburg, sprang several leaks in the gulf, off the Brazos river bar, and last night was abandoned in five and a half fathoms of water, between four and five miles from shore. Her crew was saved by the Velasco life-saving station, according to reports here today.

REVOLUTION IN SOUTH CHINA, JAPAN FEAR

TOKIO, Dec. 16.—Japan today warned China that the Mikado is keeping a vigilant eye on Chinese political developments. It is announced that at the first revolutionary indications China must take quick steps to halt the rebellion.

Emperor Yuan has created five princes, twelve dukes and twenty-four marquises.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16.—K. K. Kawakami, Japanese author and international affairs expert, today wrote the following statement regarding Japan's attitude toward China:

"In protesting the establishment of a Chinese monarchy, Japan has no ulterior motives.

"It is unjust to impute sinister designs to every move that Japan makes.

"Japan fears a revolution in Southern China following the end of a republican form of government.

"There is no reason why Yuan Shi Kai should want to be king. As president he enjoyed practically all of a monarch's authorities.

"Japan is not adding the Chinese revolutionaries. Japan is anxious to see China establish a permanent and stable government.

"Japan is not trying to gobble China.

"If China proves utterly incapable of rehabilitating her own affairs, her independence is menaced from within and not from without."

DYNAMITE SAFE IN EXPRESS CAR; FLEE

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 16.—Three bandits today held up a Kansas City Southern passenger train at Eagleton, Arkansas. They forced the engineer to detach two baggage cars and the mail car. They dynamited the Wells Fargo safe and robbed the mail. The passengers were not molested. The amount stolen is unknown.

ZURICH, Dec. 16.—The allies' retreat from Serbia has killed the prospects of Roumania joining them. Bucharest advices today said that the Roumanian leaders told the King that the time is ripe for Roumania to join the Germans and invade coveted Besarabia. It is suggested that the Russian concentration on the Roumanian border was intended to stop the possible Roumanian invasion.

THE HAGUE, Dec. 16.—Unconfirmed Saloniki reports today said that Bulgarian cavalry patrols have entered Greece west of Giougli.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 16.—It is today announced that Turkish artillery has destroyed a British monitor on the Tigris and forced another warship to flee. The Turks stormed and captured houses on the outskirts of Kut-el-Amara.

PARIS, Dec. 16.—Rome today reported that Italian troops and munitions have landed in Albania and are moving to the relief of the Serbians. It is admitted that the Italian destroyer Intrepido and the transport Reumberto, have been lost. They struck drifting mines in the Adriatic. Forty-three men perished.

ATHENS, Dec. 16.—The allies are fortifying Saloniki. They are prepared to resist Teutonic attacks. Greek laborers are assisting. Big guns are being mounted. Railways have been mined. It is today reported.

ALBANIANS AID TEUTON INVADERS, CLAIM

VIENNA, Dec. 16.—Mohammedans and Albanians rushed to the aid of the Austrians during the Montenegrin operations, it is claimed today. The official statement announced that an allied detachment has been scattered near Clibakas.

SERB KING SOON DUE IN ITALY, REPORT

ROME, Dec. 16.—King Peter of Serbia, will arrive from Scutari in a few days, it is today reported. King Victor Emmanuel has placed the royal Villa Caserta at King Peter's disposal. He is also preparing to receive the Montenegrin royal family in the event that the Austrians overrun Montenegro. The Italian queen is the daughter of King Nicholas of Montenegro.

MUTINY IN FRENCH RANKS, REPORT

BERLIN, Dec. 16.—Teuton residents of Saloniki are preparing to flee and the city practically is in a state of siege. The population is panicky. The people fear violence at the hands of Serbian refugees and retreating allies. It is today reported that a body of French troops mutinied, refusing to work in the trenches.

GERMANS TAKE SLAV RICA POSITIONS

BERLIN, Dec. 16.—Lieutenant Emmelman, over Valenciennes, shot down a British monoplane, it is today announced. This is the seventh British flyer destroyed by Emmelman. The French made an air raid over Muelheim. One citizen was killed. Windows of the military hospital were shattered. On the eastern front Von Hindenburg counter attacked the Russians and chased them from German positions near Riga.

RUSS SLAYS WOMAN, SUICIDES IN BOAT

SEATTLE, Dec. 16.—Anatole Vesileff, 30, yesterday shot and killed Miss Veli Veronnia, 20, in a rowboat on Lake Union. Vesileff then turned the gun on himself, inflicting a wound in the head from which he probably will recover. The principals in the tragedy are Russians.

NEED 4000 MEN TO BUILD BIG RAILWAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16.—W. S. Eades, Alaskan railroad commissioner, today said that between three and four thousand men will be needed to construct the railroad next spring.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

SUIT CLUB MAN GIVEN A SWAT COST $10

Brea Restaurant Man Said He Was Promised His Name Would Be Drawn First

J. Fischel, owner of a restaurant at Brea, swatted Harold D. Rampton, a suit club promoter. Rampton says he was swatted, and Fischel says that he did the swatting. Witnesses say that the swat was productive of a quick result, for it sent Rampton to the floor for the count.

This morning Justice Cox heard all of the details of the short, one-sided fight. Rampton told most of it, and Fischel finished it up.

Rampton said that Fischel hauled off and hit him. He said he had not done anything to Fischel to warrant the bowling he got.

Fischel said that Rampton came to Brea as a representative of a Los Angeles tailoring firm that claimed to have a splendid new system of making clothing. Rampton proposed to form a suit club at Brea, one of those modern inventions by which each member of the club pays $1 a month, and each week some one's name is drawn from the hat and that person gets a suit right then and there, or as Fischel says the really truly up-to-date suit of trained Los Angeles tailors would turn it out, guaranteed to fit the man and last like a bearskin coat in sunny Southern California.

Fischel says that Rampton came to Brea and told him he wanted him in the club as a lever to get the thing started. He wanted Fischel's name, Fischel being a well known citizen of the town. He would see to it that Fischel's name would be the first name drawn, and Fischel would surely get one of those suits the very first thing.

Fischel went in. But, woe, woe, and again woe! He failed to get his name drawn the first month, or the second month, or the third month. When Rampton came around to collect for the fourth month, Fischel declared he had been stung, and would not pay any more money into the new system method of making clothes or getting money.

Rampton started in to argue the matter with Fischel, and Fischel answered back. Rampton said more than he did the first time. The discussion came to an abrupt end when Rampton said some words that Fischel did not like the sound of. Down went the suit-club man. He came to after awhile, and made haste to get Fischel arrested.

The blow that knocked Rampton down killed off the suit club at Brea. At least, Rampton told Justice Cox that he was not collecting any more money dues there. Possibly Rampton was afraid that some other member of his club might feel a good deal as Fischel felt, and act accordingly.

Justice Cox said that this case has no redeeming features, but under the law, Mr. Fischel, I cannot do otherwise than find you guilty, for you undoubtedly disturbed this man's peace, though for a time you seem to have put his mind to rest. I'll have to fine you $10.

Fischel paid.

Spicer in Court
J. Spicer, charged by a Japanese with reckless driving, was in court today and pleaded not guilty. His trial was set for December 30. Spicer admitted that his machine ran into the Jap's vehicle, but he said the Jap had no light, it was dark, and Spicer could not see that he was to blame for damaging the Jap's outfit.

Trial is Set
The trial of Jose Martinez, charged with disturbing the peace as Officer Martinez was set for December 16. Martinez is one of the Mexicans who sought Carter in an effort to escape when he arrested them.

For Cutting In
S. Toguchi, a Japanese produce man, came near wrecking the forestry truck filled with county prisoners north of Anaheim yesterday afternoon. The forestry truck, driven by J. W. Squires, was returning from Laguna Park when Toguchi in a light truck passed him. An automobile was approaching, and was so close that in order to avoid a collision with Toguchi cut in front of the forestry truck. The rear wheel of the Jap's truck hit the front wheel of the county truck, and almost threw the wheel out of the driver's hands, with the result that the county truck went off the road. Had there been a ditch there, there would have been a wreck. Toguchi paid a fine of $10 to Justice Cox, protesting that he did not know he had touched the county truck.

Charge Bad Check
It seemed to be Japanese day in court. H. S. Kato's preliminary examination on a charge of giving a bad check to George K. Ogura was set for December 30. The check was given on July 31 and was drawn on the Orange County Savings and Trust Company.

YOUNG COUPLE BACK FROM MAINE WOODS

PORTLAND, Me.—Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Estes of Gray, Maine, who have been in the Maine woods since October 1, came out of the forest the other day. They arrived at Portland at noon.

They had made good their resolve to live in primitive style in the woods for two months. On October 1, when they went practically clothed into the woods, the weather was brisk, but not cold. When they came out, however, the woods were covered with snow. They secured food by their own hands. They returned with letters written on birch bark, telling of their many experiences. Mr. and Mrs. Estes are both 28 years old.

LONG HUSHED TRAGEDY IN N. Y. IS EXPLAINED

BATAVIA, N. Y.—Luglu Matroni was buried alive in the cellar of his home near Corl, in May, 1914, his body being trampled into a newly-made grave while he still begged for mercy, according to a story told by his widow to District Attorney Coon. Antonio Boliva, the alleged slayer, pointed out the spot where the crime occurred, and a body was found which Mrs. Matroni identified as that of her husband. Boliva has confessed, the district attorney said.

JURY'S VERDICT CHARLESTON GUILTY

Anaheim Clerk Is Convicted Of Grand Larceny, Theft Of Furniture

This afternoon the jury that tried Roy Charleston brought in a verdict of guilty. The verdict was rendered at 2:50 o'clock.

Closing Testimony
The taking of testimony closed yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Carrie Pickering and Miss Hazel Pickering testified for the defense that in May they were in Graham's store at Anaheim and Mrs. Pickering bought articles from Charleston. She paid him, and he put the money, $4.50, in the cash drawer.

A. E. Koepsel and Walter Eden, prosecutors, put on three witnesses in rebuttal. Albert Graham denied that conversations alleged by Charleston ever took place. Graham and H. L. Johnson, a clerk, testified that in October, 1914, Graham told Charleston that he must not sell goods to himself. In cross-examination, Charleston said he had no remembrance of any such conversation.

Mrs. Lucile Eckels testified that Charleston told her that he had arrangements with Graham to pay for furniture in weekly installments. She said that Charleston told her he could sell her some curtains cheap, but she was not sure how a remark to the effect that he could not do those things except when Graham was away was worded.

It was agreed yesterday afternoon that the arguments in the case would close this morning, the prosecution taking an hour and the defense an hour.

Went to the Jury
Four strong arguments were made to the jury. Deputy District Attorney Walter Eden spoke first for the prosecution. Referring to the fact that Charleston wore a C. E. pin, Eden declared that "that emblem of respectability should be replaced with a number, for he has brought this trouble upon himself. He has betrayed his mother, whom I believe raised him to be honest, as well as the public. It is far worse for one who has had the advantages he has had to steal than it is for one who has been raised in the slums."

Attorney H. G. Ames, opening for the defense, argued that from a legal point of view the prosecution had failed to prove its case, and since the defendant was presumed to be innocent until proven guilty he could not see that the jury could do otherwise than acquit Charleston. Ames declared, moreover, that the testimony pointed to innocence rather than guilt.

Attorney E. C. Peck for the defense went into details of the testimony, and was followed by Deputy District Attorney A. E. Koepsel, who closed the case at 11:40 o'clock with a clear, concise statement of the evidence, under which he said there should be no question of what the verdict should be. Judge West read his instructions, and the case went to the jury at 12:30 o'clock.

STOMACH MISERY QUICKLY VANISHES

Your money back if you want it is the way in which Rowley Drug Co., the popular druggists are selling Mi-o-na, the great dyspepsia remedy.

This is an unusual plan, but Mi-o-na has so much merit and is so almost invariably successful in relieving all forms of indigestion that they run but little risk in selling under a guarantee of this kind.

Do not be miserable or make your friends miserable with your dyspepsia. Mi-o-na will help you. If it doesn't, tell Rowley Drug Co. that you want your money back and they will cheerfully refund it.

A change for the better will be seen from the first few doses of Mi-o-na and its continued use will soon start you on the road to perfect digestion and enjoyment of food.

Mi-o-na has been so uniformly successful that every box is sold under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not relieve. What fair proposition could be made?

Rowley Drug Co. give their personal guarantee of "money back if you want it" with every box of Mi-o-na that they sell. A guarantee like this speaks volumes for the merit of the remedy. —Advertisement.

BIRD DIES OF GRIEF

LONDON.—"Billy," the famous King Penguin at the Zoo, died of grief soon after his keeper enlisted in the army.

Boarder—I found something in my bed room last night, madam, and—Landlady (indignantly)—There's no such thing! You must have brought it in with you!

Boarder—Ah, perhaps I did—it was a dollar bill.—St. Joseph News-Press.

J. O. BURBANK DIED AT LONG BEACH AT 1 O'CLOCK TODAY

At 1 o'clock this afternoon, J. O. Burbank died at Long Beach, where he had been living since last July with his son, Dr. Glenn C. Burbank. J. O. Burbank came to Santa Ana first about 1888, returned to Indiana for a time, and then came back to Santa Ana. He was a stockholder in the Farmers & Merchants' National Bank, and owned a residence on North Broadway. The funeral will be held in Santa Ana, and interment will be in the Santa Ana cemetery. Mr. Burbank was about 86 years of age. He leaves one son, Dr. Burbank, of Long Beach.

THE CITY POLICE 1 HURT AS OTORS HIT ON MAIN ST.

In a head-on collision between two motorcycles near the North Main street bridge last night shortly before 7 o'clock, E. H. Morgan of 1415 West Fifth street sustained several severe bruises when he was thrown from his motor. The other machine was ridden by James Gillmore of San Juan Capistrano. Gillmore was only slightly bruised. Both motors were damaged.

Robe, Overcoat Stolen
M. Northcross of 626 Riverine last night reported to the police the theft of a lap robe and an overcoat from his automobile. The robe is dark on one side and light on the other.

Looks In Window
Mrs. S. J. Jackman, 2680 North Main street, reported that a man was looking in a window of her home. City Marshal Jernigan and Officer Sid Smithwick hurried to the address and made an investigation. Tracks were found but the loiterer had disappeared.

BE MORE SPECIFIC IN CHARGES, DEMAND

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Representative Buchanan of Illinois, who is seeking impeachment of United States District Attorney Marshall of New York on charges of malicious prosecution of innocent persons in connection with alleged violations of neutrality, yesterday was notified by the House Judiciary committee, to which the impeachment resolution was referred for investigation, that his charge must be more specific before hearings could be heard. Buchanan stated that he would amplify his charges.

GEORGE WASHINGTON AS BRITISH AGENT FOR RECRUITING MEN

LONDON, Nov. 2.—(By mail).—Words used by George Washington to stir American patriotism during the dark days of the American revolution are used in England today to awaken the men who remain at home in the face of England's greatest crisis. Recruiting posters framed under the new administration of Lord Derby, England's chief recruiting agent, thus quote Washington:

"It is not sufficient for a man to be a passive friend and well-wisher to a cause. Every person should be active in some department or other, without paying too much attention to private interests. * * * Our conflict is not likely to cease so soon as every good man would wish. The measure of iniquity is not yet filled; and unless we can return a little more to first principles, and act a little more on patriotic grounds, I do not know when it will or what may be the issue of the contest."

The comment of the Derby administration under this statement of Washington's is: "The answer was the United States of America."

measures looking toward expansion of the world trade of the United States.

All the Chambers of Commerce in America which are members of the United States Chamber of Commerce were asked to vote on referendum measures in order that the central organization might be guided in regard to what new legislation to support at the present session of Congress.

Referendum No. 11 was tabled on the recommendation of the local committee which investigated the measures. The committee, Fred Rafferty, E. A. White and C. S. Kendall, reported that No. 11, dealing with the report of a United States Chamber of Commerce special committee on the results of the war and American business, was too involved and too far reaching in its possible consequences for the local chamber to vote on.

Referendum No. 10 makes provision as follows:

An increase in staff and appropriations for administration, editorial work, collecting and translating foreign tariffs, distributing information, research and translation, correspondence and handling files, supplies, etc.

The appointment of a director of the field service and enlarged appropriations, with separate appropriations for collection and exploitation of samples, geographical experts at Washington, distribution of American literature abroad, adequacy in reimbursement for traveling expenses abroad and allowances for living expenses abroad.

Increased appropriations for immediate and special investigations.
Appointment of five new commercial attaches and distinction between attaches and trade commissioners.

Creation of the new position of trade commissioner and appointment of commissioners to at least six countries abroad.

Continuance of the present eight branch offices under new appropriations.

Appointment and promotion of members of the field service in accordance with the Civil Service law.

Americanization, adequate clerical assistance, elevation of eleven consular agencies to consulates and establishment of fifteen consulates where there are now no American consular representatives of any sort, and more adequate and frequent inspection of consular offices.

Renewal of the earlier publication of these statistics by the Bureau, with adequate appropriations.

Nominating Committee

H. J. Forgy, H. A. Gardner and L.
J. Carden were appointed a nominating committee to nominate a ticket to be voted on for directors at the annual meeting and election of officers, January 11. The ticket will be posted at the Chamber of Commerce rooms and any member wanting to make additional nominations will be permitted to do so.

It was decided that a case will be made for the display at the Chamber of Commerce of the various medals won by the Southern Counties Exhibits at the expositions.

More Auto Signs

One hundred dollar's worth more of road signs will be posted on various roads throughout the county leading into Santa Ana, according to a decision reached at last night's meeting.
The signs will be about seventeen in number and will be installed in conjunction with the Orange County Auto Club which has taken over the memberships of the old Santa Ana Auto Club. The Orange County Club will pay $50 toward the work and the Chamber of Commerce will pay $50.

Chamber of Commerce Station
A letter from S. W. Wynne, forest supervisor at Escondido, stating that he is ready to donate a plot of ground atop Santiago Peak for the erection of a Chamber of Commerce station, was read. It is the plan of the Chamber to build a station of rock and cement. At the station there will be kept a register, literature and a high-power telescope. It was suggested last night that an annual hike, to take place about June 1 of each year, be made to the top of Santiago Peak.

Belgian Relief

President Fred Rafferty and Secretary J. C. Metzgar were instructed to confer with local women to see if they would care to take charge of Belgian relief work as an auxiliary of the local Chamber. The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is handling the Belgian relief work this way.

A letter from the United States Chamber of Commerce, asking that Washington's birthday, February 22, be set aside as America-First Day, was read. The day, it is proposed, will be for the purpose of Americanization, along social, civic, industrial and patriotic lines. It was recommended that the matter be considered by the new board.

New Members

Two new members were received into the Chamber of Commerce. They are W. H. James and George Folios.
Last night's meeting was the last at which President Fred Rafferty will preside before leaving for the Orient.
All the other directors of the organization were present, including George W. Minter, E. A. White, W. B. Williams, George S. Smith, C. S. Kendall, William F. Diers, E. S. Gilbert and F.
W. Winslow.

In accordance with a decision reached recently that pictures of all boards of directors be taken and kept in the records of the organization, a flashlight of the assembled board was taken last night.

The directors adjourned to the Dragon Confectionery for refreshments.

TO START WORK ON 2 NEW BATTERIES

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—Work on two additional batteries or big guns is to begin at once at Fort McArthur, guarding Los Angeles harbor.

This announcement was made by Major R. R. Raymond, chief of the United States army engineer's office here. Major Raymond also announced appointment of Captain William H.
Sage, U. S. A., as his military assistant in the work.

According to Major Raymond, one battery at the new fort now is practically complete, save the mounting of the guns. Work has begun on the foundations for another battery.

The addition of two more batteries,
Major Raymond said, would mean employment of a large number of men. The first of the big guns, Major Raymond said, will arrive early next spring. These, it is said, will include four 14-inch rifles and three 8-inch mortars.

SOLANO PROJECT TO REOPEN, PLAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16.—The Solano Irrigated Farms project, launched by Patrick Calhoun in his last year as president of the United Railways, will be rehabilitated by the company if President Jesse Lillenthal can persuade the eastern financiers interested in the railway that the project has the merit which Lillenthal claims for it.

With that view Lillenthal yesterday accompanied the party of eastern financiers to Solano on a tour of inspection.

In the party were President Lillenthal, Mason B. Starring, president of the California Railway Power Company, the holding company for the United Railroads; J. S. Guinness, secretary of the holding company, and Moritz Rosenthal.

ENLIGHTENING LAYMEN

There is no doubt that the public owes a debt of gratitude to Dr. Woods Hutchinson. Judged from the status of the layman he is a most satisfactory writer on medical topics. Probably this is because he employs that homely virtue known as common sense.

Treating the practical subject of drinking water at meals he gives it a high degree of interest. The ordinary citizen always has read that he must refrain from this practice. If he sipped water at all, it must be sparingly, and with some such worthy motive as to keep himself from choking on cracker crumbs. Still the ordinary citizen really has kept right on drinking water at meals, drinking as much as his system craved, and has been amazed that no harm came of it. He has learned to deem himself an exception to the rule, and stuck to the water habit, all the time aware that similar indulgence would knock his neighbor out. Then he is surprised to find that the neighbor also is addicted to water, survives and feels first rate.

At this juncture, and most opportunely, comes Dr. Hutchinson with the information given in the form of a direct and emphatic statement, that to drink water at meals not only is natural and healthful, but that the person failing so to indulge is risking his digestion.

We are much obliged to the doctor. It happens that a meal without water is a personal abomination, but always we have taken the water with the thought that some observing physician would catch us in the act and ring for the hospital ambulance.—Pasadena News.

TO YOUNG MEN

When John P. Altgeld was alive, most people classified him as a firebrand, a socialist of the worst type, even as an anarchist. But even then some people understood him better, as most people do now.

This year Secretary of State Woods of Illinois places in his "Blue Book" Governor Altgeld's message to young men—a ringing invitation to service and to ideals.

"Young men, life is before you. Two voices are calling you—one coming from the swamps of selfishness and force, where success means death, and the other from the hilltops of justice and progress, where even failure brings glory. Two lights are seen in your horizon—one the fast fading marsh light of power, and the other the slowly rising sun of human brotherhood. Two ways lie open before you—one leading to an ever lower and lower plain, where are heard the cries of despair and the curses of the poor, where manhood shrivels and possession rots down the possessor; and the other leading off to the highlands of the morning, where are heard the glad shouts of humanity and where honest effort is rewarded with immortality."

A REAL SPEECH

When the cannery fanatics were busy last winter in the New York Legislature trying to get a seven-day week for their employees they brought up greed's usual interminable and innumerable arguments. A Tammany man named Al Smith beat their measure with this eighteen-word address: "Nowhere have I read in the Bible, 'Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy'—except in canneries." These who overload the Congressional Record, please copy.—Collier's Weekly.

FOR RHEUMATISM

As soon as an attack of rheumatism begins, apply Sloan's Liniment. Don't waste time and suffer unnecessary agony. A few drops of Sloan's Liniment on the affected parts is all you need. The pain goes at once.

A grateful sufferer writes: "I was suffering for three weeks with Chronic Rheumatism and Stiff Neck. Although I tried many medicines, they failed and I was under the care of a doctor. Fortunately I heard of Sloan's Liniment and after using it three or four days am up and well. I am employed at the biggest department store in S. A., where they employ from six to eight hundred hands, and they surely will hear all about Sloan's Liniment.—H. H. Smith, San Francisco, Cal., Jan., 1915. At all Drugists."

The Youth of Old Age

There have been many books, articles and plays recently written on "The Years of Discretion," "In the Fifties," "The Middle Years." These years not long ago were relegated to the scrap basket of time, as they were considered worthless as far as usefulness in the world's work and progress were concerned. One doctor even went so far as to suggest chloroforming anyone who survived to that age.

Whether these middle years have been stimulated in some way; whether we are only as old as we feel, and it only needs a little encouragement to give us a new lease of life and to assert our rights, it is a fact that these articles make more youth with fresh complexion, bright eyes, absolutely crude in comparison to the mellow effect of years and experience.

"If maturity of years is an ailment, then youth is another. To be fifty years old is to have made a fairly good complete recovery from the ailment of youth and that is no small achievement," says one writer.

It used to be the fashion to sigh for lost youths, but now they say one may be vastly more interesting at fifty than at twenty-two. As the eagle makes the contrary wind a ladder on which to climb to great heights, so the years with their disappointments, disillusion, things gained and lost, should but carry us to heights unknown to untold, untested youth, with its raw material as yet undeveloped.

Growing old is more than just the wearing out of the faculties of the body. Something else is being added all the time. Experience, intelligence, are things very valuable to life. It's

Today's Feature Story

[By a United Press Staff Correspondent]

NEW YORK.—What war has done to English art and drama was discussed by Sir Herbert Tree, one of England's foremost actor-managers, upon his arrival in New York on his way to California a few days ago.

"The war is changing all our moods and interests. Art, in particular is suffering. Who cares for art? Who is buying pictures or going to see them? Scarcely anybody."

"Art demands that we should continue to play tragedies. Who wants to see tragedies played today when there is the greatest of all tragedies to arrest the attention, and how plainly so! People demand to be made happy. They cry out for the pallid to soothe the ache caused by the war. 'Make us happy at night,' they say, 'because in the daytime we are so miserable.' Who could refuse an answer to that appeal?"

And as business is business, the theaters are making the people forget. The psychology of a great civilization people at war is to be found in London's theaters. Her seven millions gloat over the tragic as it comes from the blood-soaked battle fields; they lionize the returning hero who has killed most; they cry with joy as a hostile warship sinks; they approve of war; but they will have none of the tragic for tragedy's sake.

The sentiment applies to the nation, say the psychologists who are making a study of civilian temperament in war. The vaudeville act must have plenty of humor, the musical concert must give lively, joyful music; there must be drama and very happily, there must be marriage and plenty of love. The demand of art that some little tragedy must stalk behind the footlights has been placed on the shelf. The hundreds of audiences in the hundreds of theaters in the world's greatest city see enough tragedy on the stage of everyday life. They go to the theater, the music hall, concert and movie, to forget. Long lines of patient faces are seen outside scores of London playhouses every afternoon and night, waiting to buy tickets to the galleries and stalls where they can laugh away the worries and cares and bury the sorrow of some soldier or relative who will never return. If a theater manager elects to put tragedy into his performance the box office receipts soon dwindle.

Theatrical tragedy in war time is foredoomed to failure. Sir Arthur Pinero wrote a drama which he called "The Big Drum," the finish of which found lovers parted and heroine in tears. The unhappy ending was logical and true, but the second night found empty seats. The third performance found more empty seats and Sir Arthur and his managers began to seek the reason. It was the human psychology of war time. There was too much grief at the curtain-fall.

The author has revamped the last act. He has united the lovers and his managers have re-staged the play. Its ending is happy and so are the crowds that nightly flock to see it. The psychologists have gone into the Palais de Movie. Here they find

FASHION LETTER

BY MARGARET MASON
(Written for the United Press)

Round the world miliary goes

To devise her boudoir clothes;

Often she reclines at ease

In a coat and pants Chinese;

Off! an Oriental shawl!

Is her only robe at all;

Japanese kimono, too

Will unfold her, gay of hue;

Grecian robes, she'll often wear 'em;

Also trousers a la harem.

Thus to view the exploitation

Of her robes of relaxation

Is, without exaggeration,

Geographic education.

NEW YORK.—Just bear in mind that bare feet are the essential accessories of the newest Grecian negligee. At least, they are almost bare since silver sandals are almost their sole covering. A lovely Grecian model of silver gauze and scarlet is offered up on the sartorial shrine of 1916. The skirt is of silver gauze and the short tunic is of silver figured in scarlet with scarlet binding around the low neck and flowing Grecian sleeves. A fillet of silver and scarlet at the head and silver sandals at the feet prove extreme attractions of this artistic new negligee. Helen of Troy may have had something on the modern maiden thus attired, but it's barely possible that she had any less on her.

Given an oblong shawl of gold embroidered gauze, or even a vividly embellished Carmen shawl of silk and fringe and, with a little time and two pins, any bright young thing can swathe her figure in the luring draperies of a bewitching and original negligee.

Borrowing an Oriental pattern for Occidental material, Miss Up To Date now wears in the privacy of her boudoir (or if she hasn't any, the privacy of her hall bedroom will do), a coat and pair of trousers like perfect ladies affect in China. Miss Up To Date's aren't real Chinese embroidered ones, however. Goodness, no! They were worn last season. This year hers are made of chiffon velvet banded around the bottom of the trousers and the coat in gold or silver gauze.

If you are simply panting to be comfortable, you can certainly be all that in these newest party negligees. If, however, you yearn to be adorably coddly and feminine invest at once in one of the dainty pastel tinted chiffon one-piece kimono edged all around and up and down in fluffy white swansdown.

You'll look like an idealized powder puff. That will be sure to take the shine off of any other negligee worn in your vicinity.

Marguerite Clark a Circus Queen

Marguerite Clark, the dainty little actress who has won the hearts of the motion-picture public by her marvelous artistry and her irrepressible vivacity in recent productions of the Famous Players Film Company, is being starred by that feature concern in "Still Waters," a story of the circus and of canal-boat life, written especially for Miss Clark by Edith Barnard Delano. This rare combination of comedy and drama is the Paramount attraction at the West End Theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next week.

In "Still Waters" Miss Clark has an opportunity of supplementing her well-established reputation as an incomparable ingenue by the greatest display of dramatic power which she has yet contributed to the screen. When the story opens, Miss Clark is a delightful little girl living on a canal boat with her stern old grandfather who forbids her to have anything to do with the outside world. Fretting under the restraint, she skips away from the boat and meets a young doctor—the first man that she has really been brought into contact with. Naturally, they fall in love, and the plot is worked out from that situation.

For Sunday, Robert Edeson in "Where the Trail Divides" will be the drawing card at the West End, while tonight, tomorrow and Saturday, Blanche King will be seen in "The Yankee Girl."

CHILDREN MAKE MERRY

Mrs. E. L. Peacock Entertains For Small Daughter Tuesday Afternoon

Mrs. E. L. Peacock of 410 East Second street gave a very pretty party on Tuesday afternoon for her little daughter, Jeanette, who reached the third year in her happy little life.

A holiday scheme of decoration beautified the home and gave the childish guests visions of good old Santa Claus, who will soon be here to make his annual visit.

The afternoon games and a dainty collation was served the little ones at 4:30. They were seated at six small tables, each centered with a red brick chimney. To the place cards bearing a picture of Santa Claus were attached red ribbons. The children were instructed to pull the streamers, when they emerged from the chimney a stocking filled with delicious candies. A feature was a lovely birthday cake surrounded by three twinkling candles.

Those present, besides Mrs. Peacock and her daughter, Jeanette, were Mrs. R. J. Brown and daughter, Mrs. Albert Schreffel and son, Mrs. Thompson and children, Mrs. Elmer Jones and daughter, Mrs. Thomas Mann, Mrs. Frank Henry and son, Mrs. James Wilburn and daughter of Orange, Mrs. Alice Titchenal and daughter, Miss Stella Titchenal.

HOUSEWARMING

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hill Surprised By Christian Endeavor of First Baptist

The Christian Endeavor of the First Baptist Church gave Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hill a pleasant housewarming last evening, following their business meeting, at which they elected the following officers: President, Miss Grace Roberts; vice-president, Walter Ferris; secretary, Miss Ida May; treasurer, Mrs. Walter Ferris; pianist, Miss Mayme Havens; assistant pianist, Miss Mildred Taylor; intermediate superintendent, Miss Nellie Clingan; junior superintendent, Mrs. J. Rigg; assistant junior superintendent, Miss Robert Owen.

The party, numbering about thirty-five, then repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hill, where they received a hearty welcome, after the young couple had recovered from the shock. They were presented with a beautiful potted fern by J. Wiley Harris on behalf of the company and both responded with words of appreciation.

The remainder of the evening was happily passed with conversation and games, and Leslie Pearson and Mr. Hill with guitar and clarinet rendered delightful music and old-time songs were sung.

Snowy popcorn and home-made candies were prepared and eaten and made a jolly close for the pleasant affair.

"THE FREELANDS"

John Galesworthy's Book Is Read Before Book Review Section

With judicious cutting, Mrs. H. J. Hatch read John Galesworthy's "The Freelanders," a new novel which is attracting much attention and arousing much interest in the land question in England. Mrs. Hatch prefaced her reading with the following comment from "The Outlook" of October 6: "The novel has gone into business so often that fiction has become in many cases a trade instead of an art; but it still has many practitioners to whom it is a calling and not a form of catering. To Mr. Galesworthy the writing of a story is a fine art, for the practice of which he had a thorough training. In a revolutionary period such as we are passing through, energy and vehemence count for more than art. The 'live wire' and 'hot from the bat' are phrases suggestive of the interest of an hour and of a crowd; but art bids its time and has its revenge. It holds the stage long after the emotionalists and 'lightning change' actors have vanished into the files. Mr. Galesworthy is as contemporary as the most up-to-date writer of journalistic fiction; but he has ripeness, charm, distinction. He is a novelist, but he is an artist; and so far his instinct has held him to his vocation. He belongs to the generation of Mr. Wells and Mr. Bennett, but he has more concentration, more poise and delicacy of feeling, than the author of 'Ann Veronica,' and more imagination, passion, insight, than the author of 'The Price of Love.' The injustices of life strike his heart, and in play and story he is absorbed in the tragedy that springs out of social and industrial conditions. But so far he has kept his poise, his detachment, his sense of art values, and has escaped the danger of changing his vocation from art to reform."

"Born of an ancestry rooted in three of the loveliest shires in England, educated at Harvard and at Oxford, he received the impress of the patrician tradition which has cost the people of England too much, but has bred men and women of a type possible only when the selective process has been carried on for centuries. He read law long enough to hate it, and then traveled to the outskirts of the empire, to the United States, through Europe. He had leisure and he had means; circumstances set him free to choose his goal and pursue it without hindrance."

"He was fortunate in his freedom, and he was still more fortunate in the warmth of his human interests and in his love of work. He is still a young man, and he has published seven or eight novels, ten plays, several volumes of essays and a book of verse. Such industry means character as well as freedom to follow one's bent."

"The Man of Property," "The Country House," "Fraternity," "The Patriarch," bore the marks of deep seriousness and of distinction of taste and feeling. "The Freelanders" presents a broader canvas; it is bathed in the loveliness of rural England and gets its poignancy from the contrast between the sordid lives of the farm laborers and the exquisite setting of the landscape untrivialized by the beauty created by centuries of human labor in partnership with a climate which carries the rose to the roof tree and makes time and change artists of the beautiful."

"The land question is the theme of the story and it is presented in a hundred lights and shadows; it is not solved. The writer is an artist, not a reformer; but he is all the more effective because he lets conditions make their own impression. "But 'The Freelanders' lives in its human interest, its beautiful portraiture, its elusive glimpses of the secret and influence that play on the spirits of men, its brilliancy of line in portraying the splendid inheritance of privilege, its power of suggesting the unspoken thought of those who have never learned how to speak."

"As a painter of old women of the old-lace order, Mr. Galesworthy is without a rival in contemporary fiction, and his portrait of Frances Freeland is masterly in its deftness and delicacy. Since the love-making in Richard Feverel's captivating romance there has been no story of innocent young passion more naive and appealing than that which runs like a golden thread through 'The Freelanders.' Nor has the loveliness of the English landscape found a happier art than that which gives the pages of this story a freshness and perfume as of June mornings."

Covers were laid for Mmes. Robert Simons, Robert E. Reid, Frank Case, William Malone, W. H. Spruance, Jr., John McPadden and E. L. Roberts, Jr. and the hostess.

Christmas needle work formed a pleasant pastime for the afternoon hours, together with social chat.

SUPPLY OF INDIGO

Despite an increase in the price of vegetable indigo of 500 to 600 per cent as a result of the European war, the leading planters of India say they will not increase the acreage under indigo this year unless they are guaranteed a better return than has been obtained for some years. Some large producers are understood to be in London now, according to the commerce reports, with a view to negotiating some arrangement of this sort with the British government.

About one-third of the vegetable indigo supply of the world comes from the Madras presidency of India, this being about one-third of the total acreage under indigo in that empire. The 1914 planting was estimated at 54,500 acres.—New York Times.

CHRISTMAS CHIMES

Cute Playlet Presented Yesterday Before Athena Club Of High School

The Athena club of the high school held its Christmas meeting yesterday afternoon with about ninety young women present. After the reading and adoption of the minutes as read by the secretary, Margaret Blake, the members enjoyed a delightful program.

Miss Jessie Rawlings gave a vocal solo, "The Birthday of a King." Miss Ada Hoy told of the kinds of Christmas in other lands and the girls' glee club sweetly sang "Holy Night." Miss Laura Davis told "The Christmas for Tony" by Zona Gale, and this was followed by the playlet "Christmas Chimes," acted very prettily by Margaret Lyon as Dolly; Mary Grubb, as Ted, her suitor; Christine Watson as Mrs. Terrel and Ardis Burns as Mr. Joe Terrel.

A prettily decorated Christmas tree had been arranged by Miss Eunice Jones, president of the tree committee and her assistants and there were "josh" gifts for each member. Christmas candy was served.

IN BOSTONESE

If upon the initiative attempt success eludes your efforts, repeat the operation ad infinitum.

It is an exceedingly lengthy by-way that fails to produce some tangible evidence to prove that its natural tendencies point to an apparent longing to execute a right angle.

When the household feune has temporarily vacated the premises, the small rodents will undoubtedly take advantage of her absence to participate in unseemly gambols commensurate with the joyous occasion.

The operation of conveying a beast of burden in the general direction of the trough containing aqua distilla may prove to be one of comparative ease, but the process of inducing the quadruped to partake of the contents thereof is often a matter of conjecture, to be determined only by the avowed inclination of the animal in question.—Judge.

DE LESSEPS

Turkish threats of attacking the Suez Canal add interest to the twentieth anniversary of the death of Ferdinand de Lesseps. The great French engineer—who had Scottish blood in his veins—went as a youth to Asia Minor on diplomatic service and conceived the idea of the canal fully twenty years before, in 1854, he had an opportunity to lay his plans before the world. He had to overcome enormous difficulties, diplomatic as well as financial, before the first clod of the canal was cut in 1859, but on the completion of the great work, ten years later, all Europe vied to do him honor.—Pittsburg Gazette.

MISNAMED BATTLESHIPS

Once more it seems to be demonstrated that British battleships have been misnamed. The Audacious was sunk without venturing from home waters, the Bulwark was blown up at the dock, the Formidable sunk by a mine, and now the Irresistible cannot resist destruction and the Ocean is lost in a strait.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

ALL CALIFORNIA IS ENLISTED IN RED CROSS SEAL WORK

All California this year seems to have come to the front and enlisted its resources to help fight tuberculosis. Now that the sale of Red Cross Seals has begun, and some hundreds of workers all over the state have volunteered their services at the busiest season of the year, it means that more nurses, more dispensaries, more beds in the tuberculosis wards of the county hospitals will be provided for those made poor by the ravages of the white plague.

The Red Cross Seals in the past years have raised nearly $2,000,000 for tuberculosis work, besides assisting in the creation of public sentiment of preventive measures. The first seals or stamps sold in this country were sold during the Civil war for the benefit of relief funds for the sick soldiers. Today, the pendulum has indeed swung in the other direction, and the seals are now used for soldiers on another fighting line. All the money raised will be spent in California, after the expenses for printing and advertising are paid to the Red Cross.

P. E. MAN SAYS JITNEYS PAY UNDER $22 A MONTH

Takes Santa Ana to Los Angeles Route In Reply to C. B. Morgan's Figures

Los Angeles, Dec. 15, 1915. Editor Santa Ana Register: In a recent issue of your paper, on or about the 10th inst., you quoted Mr. Charles B. Morgan, local agent of several insurance companies handling bonds for the various jitney busses operating in and out of Santa Ana, as stating that the jitney busses operating in Santa Ana are now paying an average of $54.75 per month per car for city licenses and indemnity bonds in various cities which they include in their routes.

As this statement is misleading to the public, would ask that you kindly publish the following:

Using Mr. Morgan's own figures as a basis, for example, we will take a Ford jitney bus operating between Santa Ana and Los Angeles, which route would include a larger number of cities than possibly any other route operated out of Santa Ana:

	Per Yr.	Per Mo.
State license for Ford machine	$8.80	$73 1-3
State chauffeur's license	1.00	.08 1-3
Los Angeles City license	30.00	2.50
L. A. chauffeur's license	1.00	.08 1-3
Santa Ana City and Orange Co. property tax on machine	8.32	.69 1-3
Orange city license	60.00	5.00
Anaheim city license	30.00	2.50
Fullerton city license	20.00	2.50
Indemnity bond	90.00	7.50
	$215.93	1-3

A jitney bus operating between Santa Ana and Long Beach would pay proportionately less, the license being $25 per annum in Santa Ana and $25 per annum in Long Beach for a car seating six passengers or less, and $30 for a car seating ten persons or less. So we have an amount of $215.93 per month to cover the licenses, taxes and bond premium as a maximum, against the figure of $54.75 as stated by Mr. Morgan.

This expense is negligible when compared with the expenses of the electric lines, which they compete with. The electric lines pay to the state 5 1/2 per cent of each dollar earned (gross), and also pay to cities, under franchise requirements, 2 per cent of their earnings; are required to pave the tracks and for two feet each side thereof where they operate in public streets, and where they do not operate under franchise they must own private rights of way; must operate definite service night or day, rain or shine, with fixed fares, and are subject to federal, state and municipal regulation.

The jitney busses are using the public streets and the good roads of the county for a commercial business as common carriers, and should pay for the privilege. It would seem to be proper that they should pay a license, tax to the county for the use of the good roads, the money received to go into the road fund for the maintenance thereof.

If the Pacific Electric were to discontinue operating its cars on tracks that are constructed and maintained by it, whether on streets or private rights of way, and decided to equip its cars with rubber tires and operate them on the public streets and the county good roads, it would expect to be taxed in proportion to the benefits derived, and we believe we are within our rights in asking that our competitors that are now enjoying these facilities, be treated in the same way.

Yours truly,
W. V. HILL,
Tax and Contract Agent of the Pacific Electric Railway Company.

ANCIENT HATS NOW ARE SHAVING MUGS

PARIS, Nov. 2 (by mail).—The battle of Champagne was France's first real opportunity to test the effectiveness of the new steel helmets of the first line troops. The results were eminently satisfactory.

"One of my comrades," said a wounded private, "was struck on the head by a splinter from a big shell. He was knocked down and we were sure he had been killed. We found that he was only stunned. The splinter had merely dented the steel cap. Since we have had the helmets there have been fifty per cent fewer wounds in the head. We are now using our regular hats for shaving mugs and wash basins."

LESS WORLD STATES LESS WAR, HE SAYS

LONDON, Nov. 2.—(By Mail).—A "United States of the World" is the idea of Professor Sidney Webb, well known British political economist, to end wars. The diminution of war in the world is due to the diminution of the number of states in the world. He argues, pointing out that time has steadily cut down the number of these and consequently there has been less fighting.

In the eighteenth century there were hundreds of separate states in Europe and always war among some of them. He adds:

"Today the total number of governments of the world that can make war is forty-six, twenty-one of which are on the continent of America. If you can imagine such a condition as the whole world under one government, the United States of the World, with any amount of local autonomy, you will find war brought to an end. There might be riots necessitating police interference, but there would be no more war."

Professor Webb figures that war is controlled by the eight great powers—Britain, Germany, France, Austria, Hungary, Russia, Italy, United States and Japan. These powers compose three-quarters of the world's population and dispose of seven-eighths of its armed force, he says.

WOMAN FINED $5 FOR CHEWING GUM IN COURT

CHICAPEE, Mass.—Chewing gum in the tribunal over which Judge John P. Kirby presides is contempt of court. Mrs. Paulina Gofoski thought otherwise and paid $5 for her conviction.

During her testimony in a case Mrs. Gofoski chewed a generous mouthful of gum vigorously. The court ordered her to stop. Mrs. Gofoski in an undertone expressed the opinion that the court need not worry about her gum.

For this observation Judge Kirby imposed a fine of $5. A witness fee of 70 cents was due her and she settled by paying $4.30.

GIRL WALKS IN HER SLEEP, CUTS OFF HAIR

SHEBOYGAN, Wis.—When Gertrude Grass entered the freshman class at the Sheboygan high school she had long, beautiful blonde hair, which was admired by every one. She was only 15 years old, so wore it in a braid, which came below her waist. The other night there was company visiting her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Grass. They also admired the girl's hair and talked of it considerably. The next morning Gertrude awoke late and hurried so as not to be tardy at school. When she started to comb her hair she found that it was gone. In place of the long blonde tresses, she found her hair was as short as a boy's.

The girl ran screaming downstairs to her mother. As she passed through the library she saw the long braid and a pair of scissors lying on a table. Mr. and Mrs. Grass believe that the girl, while asleep, clipped off her pretty tresses.

FIND FREAK MINERAL IN OZARK MOUNTAINS

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—There has recently been discovered in the northern part of Arkansas a rock which in many respects resembles rubber. Recently a mining boom has struck this section of the Ozarks and prospectors have brought this freak of mineralogy to the surface.

The rock is spongy, a bluish black in color and bounces like hard rubber. It was first found on J. L. Nongood's farm and afterwards showed up in small quantities on the farms of S. K. Matton and "Possum" Nevins.

Mineralogists say that it has no commercial value and can merely be regarded as a freak in the mineral world.

NEW YORKER, 106, RECALLS NAPOLEON

NEW YORK.—Nissen Rosenstein, who says he is 106, celebrated his birthday in the Home of the Daughters of Jacob, on East Broadway.

He ate a feast with his own teeth, read a letter without specs, smoked a cigar, gave reminiscences of life in Russia when Poland came under the czar's dominion. He recollected Napoleon, he said.

As to the present war in his native land he said:

"In my day there was no such thing as killing so many people. He drank a toast to President Wilson and his fiancée. Then he walked a mile around the neighborhood, and when he went to bed, soon after dusk, he said he hadn't felt better in years."

DISCOVER $10,000 ON MYSTERY FARM

PANA, Ill.—With the finding of $10,000, principally in gold, hidden in tin cans, mattresses and boxes about the home of Mrs. Jean Deslarge, near here, a second mystery has been thrown around the fenced tract of weeds and the crumbling shack which for thirty years has been known locally as the "mystery farm."

The money was found by Frank Oakes, recently appointed conservator for Mrs. Deslarge on the petition of her daughter, now Mrs. Edward Ransford of Evansville, Ind. Mr. Oakes' visit to the Deslarge home and at the funeral of Jean Deslarge, the head of the house, a year ago, were the only occasions in more than a quarter of a century when any one not a member of the family is known to have entered the gates of "Mystery Farm."

Thirty years ago Miss Ardel Deslarge married Edward Ransford and moved to Evansville. Since then Mrs. Deslarge, her son, Louis, 50 years old, and another daughter, Hortense, 55 years old, have secluded themselves on the farm. Mrs. Ransford would not explain the reason for the secluded lives of her relatives.

100,000 'ENEMIES' IN GERMAN TONGUE

BERLIN.—The crusaders against the use of foreign words and languages in Germany are temporarily blocked. Ernest Brues, a Duesseldorf writer, has discovered that there are 100,000 foreign words in the German dictionary and it is calculated that it would take many years to get them out.

The wedding process, which began several months ago, is continuing in some part of Germany every week. Recently a big meeting was held in the town hall of Duesseldorf. At the meeting were members of the General German Language Club and the president of the International Hotel Keepers' Club. All agreed that foreign words should not be used, especially on signs, but the Hotel Keepers won on the point of having the word hotel, which is originally French, remain as a German word on the ground that 40 per cent of the visitors to hotels here are foreigners.

Finally the meeting adopted this resolution: "This meeting, which is attended by representatives of commerce and trade for the district of Duesseldorf, considers it its duty to point out that foreign words still appearing on signs, labels, name plates, etc., should be replaced as far as possible by good German words."

The phrase as far as possible was put in after Brues informed the meeting of the 100,000 enemies in the German language.

AGED SISTERS VISIT GOTHAM FIRST TIME

NEW YORK.—It is surprising to hear a New Yorker admit he doesn't know his own town, has never seen the Statue of Liberty or the many famous spots. Yet there are many of his kind here. Only the other day two aged sisters, who had lived in Brooklyn for seventy-five years, and never had been outside of it, decided to make the perilous journey to Manhattan and satisfy a yearning that had been gripping them since they were sweet sixteen. They had read of the white lights of Broadway, the dancing places and all of that. They secretly longed to take a peep—just to see how the other half lived.

They wandered through the city seeing the sights, but when they were picked up, exhausted, they were far from Broadway—they were found at One Hundred and Fifty-seventh street. And yet they say there are no innocents in this big town.

JOFFRE AT PHONE 22 HOURS IN BIG BATTLE

PARIS.—For over twenty-two hours—from 9 one morning until 7:30 the next—General Joffre, without food or drink, bent over a large scale map and by telephone directed battle operations in Champagne.

According to report the commander-in-chief took a post close to the front in an innkeeper's kitchen where a telephone had been installed and listened to officers as he studied the map, at intervals giving orders in a calm voice.

At 7:30 in the morning he put down his pencil and said: "It is over. Let us go take a bite."

MOTION PICTURE HEAD'S RISE METEORIC

A story of a meteoric rise in business, of determination and ability to see and grasp opportunities, is contained in the account of how W. W. Hodkinson, president of the ten-million dollar Paramount Picture Corporation, advanced from a solicitor for a correspondence school to the position as head of one of the most stupendous educational and amusement enterprises in the world.

The story is told by C. D. Chamberlain, instructor in Spanish at the Orange County Business College. Chamberlain has known Hodkinson for twelve years. Less than six years ago, while he was in charge of promotion work for the correspondence school, Hodkinson was employed by him at a salary of $50 per month and commissions.

"Hodkinson was dissatisfied," says Chamberlain. "At that time he already had his eye on the motion picture industry. He could see the wonderful future that the business had for men of enterprise."

"Every now and then he would say to me, 'let's quit this correspondence business and go into the motion picture game.'"

"I took no note of Hodkinson's suggestion. When he quit working for me he got a job in Ogden, Utah, turning the crank of a movie camera.

"Then he secured a position on the coast representing a company. Finally he severed his connection with the company and went into business for himself.

"With others he organized the Paramount Company. He is now in New York, planning to go to South America, where he intends to repeat the program of development in the picture industry which he has so successfully carried out in this country."

Chamberlain is living in this city. He has a splendid reputation as a Spanish instructor, having passed the state board examination. He is a graduate of an Eastern university. All those who have studied Spanish under him say that his methods are thoroughly up-to-date and that they bring results.

"There are four classes in Spanish at the Business College at the present time, receiving instruction from Chamberlain in practical business Spanish.

ANAHEIM WINS FROM POLY BY 42-24 SCORE

In the first game of basketball played by the Santa Ana Polytechnic High School team, the locals were defeated yesterday afternoon on the Anaheim grounds by a score of 42 to 24, by the Mother Colony team.

The Poly players put up an exceptionally good game, considering that it was their first this season. Their team work was excellent, but their basket shooting was weak. Sprout sustained an injury to the knee during the game and his position as forward was filled by Hill and Fletcher. "The game being more in the nature of a practice game for the locals, Coach Hall used several players for all positions during the game, with the exception of center, which was capably sustained throughout by Wayne Stewart. Plavan and Packard played at guard, and Sprout, Forgy, Hill and Fletcher at forward.

A very interesting account of how a modern sanitary dairy is conducted, with a full description of the process of pasteurizing milk, is contained in the half-page advertisement of the Excelsior Dairy Company on page 16, section two, of this paper. Read it.

BLOOD MONEY IS CHARGED IN HEART BALM DAMAGE CASE

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 16.—W. J. Baker, charged by Chris. Heintz in a suit for $25,000 damages with persuading Mrs. Heintz to obtain a divorce and then marry him before the divorce became final, yesterday refused to give his answer to the sensational charges outlined in Heintz's suit.

Baker is the heir of the late Col. R. M. Baker of this city and Monrovia and is one of the best known men in San Bernardino.

Heintz claimed in the suit that Baker had enticed Mrs. Heintz to file suit for divorce while Mrs. Heintz was working as Baker's housekeeper. He alleged that the interlocutory decree was granted on June 7 of this year and that nineteen days later Baker and Mrs. Heintz were married at El Juana.

"It is blood money, that is all," was the only statement Baker would make at his home.

Heintz, who is employed at a pumping station at Rialto, alleged in the suit that Baker willfully and in wanton and reckless disregard of plaintiff's rights and feelings, wickedly, maliciously and unlawfully, and by means of offers and gifts of money, jewelry, automobile rides and otherwise, gained the affections of Mrs. Heintz and induced and persuaded her to leave me and live with Baker.

TO HOLD EXES FOR NORWALK HOSPITAL ATTENDANT POSITION

The California State Civil Service Commission announces an examination for Hospital Attendant, to be held at Los Angeles, December 29, 1915, to provide a list of eligibles from which to fill positions at the Norwalk State Hospital, Norwalk, California.

Hospital attendants have the care and nursing of the insane and feeble minded, and although previous experience is not essential, candidates who have had such experience will secure added credit. Entrance salaries range from $40 to $50 per month, with room, board, laundry, light and heat provided.

The examination is open to all American citizens residing in California who are within the age limits of 21 to 50 for men and 19 to 45 for women. Further information and application blanks may be secured from the State Civil Service Commission, Forum Building, Sacramento. Completed applications must be filed with the Commission on or before December 24, 1915.

UNCEASING MISERY

Some Santa Ana Kidney Sufferers Get Little Rest or Comfort

There is little sleep, little rest, little peace for many a sufferer from kidney trouble. Life is one continual round of pain. You can't rest at night when there's kidney backache. You suffer twinges and "stabs" of pain, annoying urinary disorders, lameness and nervousness. You can't be comfortable at work with darting pains and blinding dizzy spells. Neglect these ailments and serious troubles may follow. Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills at the first sign of disorder. Thousands have testified to their merit.

Proof in Santa Ana testimony: Mrs. Cynthia M. Madison, 901 East Sixth St., Santa Ana, says: "I was feeling very poorly in every way. My kidneys showed signs of weakness. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me and gave such satisfactory results that I have never hesitated to speak a good word for them."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Madison had. Foster-Milburn Co., Propag., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advertisement.

PAIN OF BURIED LIMB COSTS HIM SLEEP

M'ALLESTER, Okla., Dec. 16.—Strange tales have often been told of cripples who many years after the accident which left them maimed have suffered aches and pains from the severed member, though it was safely buried, perhaps in some quiet churchyard a thousand miles away, but such statements, though backed by medical science, have seemed so weird and improbable that the average reader likely will remain skeptical even though such a case has recently come to light in McAlester and is vouched for by the sexton of Oakhill cemetery and his wife, as well as the party who had the buried limb.

About three weeks ago, Anderson Pugh, a local employee of the Standard Oil Company, had his leg amputated as a result of an accident. The leg was wrapped in grave cloth and buried by George Burt, the sexton of Oakhill cemetery. What happened after that time is told by Mr. Burt in his own way, and affirmed by Mrs. Burt, who was a witness to all that transpired.

"A few days ago," says Mr. Burt, "Anderson Pugh came to me and said, 'Burt, you have buried my leg in a cramped position, leaving a crease in the bottom of the foot, and it is giving me such pain that I want you to take it up, straighten it out, and bury it again.' He described the crease, telling just how it ran across the bottom of the foot."

"Well, I went to the cemetery the next day and dug up the limb, and sure enough I found that I had buried it so that it was cramped, leaving a crease in the foot just as Mr. Pugh had described. I straightened the member out, wrapped it in new cloth and replaced it in the grave. Mr. Pugh said that since that time he has not suffered the slightest pain from the missing leg."

Anderson Pugh, the man who lost the leg, said that everything Sexton Burt had told was true. He declared that he had suffered constant pain from the time his leg was buried and the feeling had always been with him that the leg was stiff and cramped until it had been unearthed and reinterred by the sexton, after which all pain had vanished.

FULLERTON EASTERN STAR

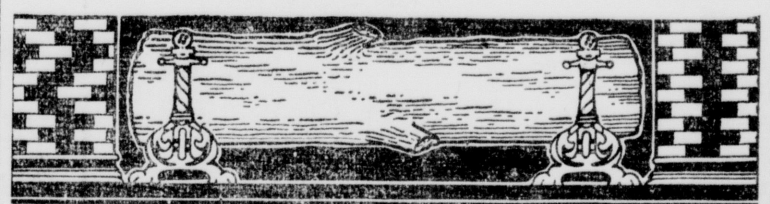

FULLERTON, Dec. 16.—The Order of the Eastern Star held a closed installation of officers Saturday night. There were about 200 present, and a delightful banquet was served. Those installed were: Mrs. Ray Ford, W. M.; Dr. J. H. Lang, W. P.; Mrs. Lorin Gardiner, A. M.; Edith Greenough, secretary; Mrs. Estellen Greenough, treasurer; Mrs. Lottie Dreyer, Mrs. Mabel McCoud, Mrs. Grace Chilton, marshal; Mrs. Carl Oswald, organist; Miss Bessie Pendleton, Adah; Mrs. Phillip McKee, Ruth; Mrs. Lizzie Beck, Esther; Mrs. J. H. Lang, Martha; Mrs. F. Underwood, Electa; Mrs. Goodwin, warden; Oscar Kreichbaum, sentinel.

GIRL, 19, IS HEIR TO ESTATE OF MILLIONS

PORTLAND, Dec. 16.—That she is one of the heirs to an estate worth $14,000,000 is the news just received by Miss Ruth L. Price, a 19-year-old school girl of Portland.

Land in the heart of Baltimore, Md., is involved. It was leased by the girl's great-grandfathers in parcels for a term of ninety-nine years. Recently the leases expired, and the heirs, of whom Miss Price is one, are preparing to sue for possession of the lands which are now claimed by the heirs of the persons to whom they were leased.

COUNTY SHOULD GET SUBSIDY OFFERED BY STATE

Hospital At West Orange Fulfills Requirements of State Health Board

The California State Board of Health has prepared an outline of the requirements that will be necessary for counties to receive the state subsidy for the care of tuberculosis patients. Miss E. L. M. Tate, director of the board's bureau of tuberculosis, has visited nearly every county hospital in the state, and as a result of Miss Tate's work, it has been decided that diet and medical supervision of tuberculosis cases will be given more weight than the mere construction of buildings.

Since Orange county takes excellent care of its tuberculosis patients at the County Hospital, there is no question but that it will receive a share in the subsidy.

Counties having small, expensively constructed buildings, where there are large numbers of tuberculosis persons waiting for admission to an institution, will not fare well in securing state aid. On the other hand, buildings of inexpensive construction, but with a capacity sufficient to accommodate all of the county's tuberculosis who may desire to enter, will stand a much better chance of receiving aid from the state.

Conditions in many county hospitals of the state at the present time are appalling. There is overcrowding and lack of care, medical attendance and supervision. Some of these institutions are so crowded that beds are even made up in the bath tubs. Some of them are vermin infested, and in very few are the patients served with the sort of food that is necessary for bringing about a cure of their tuberculosis.

The new law provides for the payment of a subsidy of $3 per week per patient to such counties as maintain the standard required by the State Board of Health. Already many applications have been received by the Bureau of Tuberculosis, and the operation of the new law will, no doubt, be the means of providing adequate care for the many tuberculosis citizens who, at the present time, lack the necessary care and attention to make them well.

PLOT TO KIDNAP WIFE OF VILLA UNDER PROBE

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—Sleuths from war-torn Mexico yesterday began an investigation in Los Angeles and Long Beach of an alleged plot to injure or kidnap Mrs. Francisco Villa, wife of the Mexican general, and their infant child, who are now in Los Angeles.

General Villa, the special representative from Chihuahua, Mexico, to investigate the alleged plot against his wife, of which the robbery of the Villa home is said to be one ramification.

The name of the special agent, who is said to be a rich Chihuahua friend of General Villa, was kept secret by the police of both cities.

Question Mexican Girl

Detective Ben McCan of the Los Angeles department, who made the investigation of the robbery of the Villa home recently, was detailed to assist the Chihuahua man in probing the alleged plot against Mrs. Villa.

Detective McCan and the special representative sent to Los Angeles by General Villa yesterday at Central station questioned Lucia Luna, the Mexican girl arrested several days ago in Long Beach charged with having property stolen from the Villa home in her possession. The Luna girl was taken to the Central police station from Long Beach by Detective McCan and will be returned to Long Beach to answer to a charge of petty larceny.

Plot is Mystery

Just how far the alleged plot against Mrs. Villa extends has not been learned by the police. Mrs. Villa is now living with her servants at 1026 South Alvarado street. Detective McCan stated that the special agent sent to Los Angeles by General Villa had informed him that General Villa was afraid that Carranza agents were conspiring against Mrs. Villa and might attempt to harm her.

DEATH TOOLS IN BAG SHOWN JURY

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—Coils of fuse, explosive caps, a dry battery and a small alarm clock—necessary articles for the manufacture of an infernal machine—which were found in a suitcase alleged to have been left by J. B. McNamara following the dynamiting of the Times building, were shown to the jurors in the trial of M. A. Schmidt, accused accomplice of McNamara, yesterday.

The suitcase was found in the check room at the Ferry building in San Francisco by the police the morning after the Times disaster.

Schmidt's room in San Francisco was described as a meeting place for David Caplan, co-defendant in the case; Olaf Tveitmo, McNamara and Anton Johanson by William Brown of San Francisco.

Brown told of how these men met in Schmidt's room before the dynamiting of the Times. He said Schmidt had told him that people in Los Angeles who were making trouble were "going to get theirs."

Caplan's name was brought into the court record for the first time yesterday when a witness stated that he was seen in company with Schmidt before the Times disaster.

Schmidt was identified in court by Mrs. Rose Brown of San Francisco, who said she roomed at the same house he stopped at in that city.

Miss Ethel Gill, a pretty San Francisco telephone girl, testified regarding several telephone calls Schmidt is alleged to have made while stopping at the Hotel Argonaut.

Miss Margaret Sheldon of San Francisco was the first witness. In 1910 she was subscription clerk at a San Francisco newspaper. Miss Sheldon first identified an advertisement for the renting of a launch received at the newspaper office September 7, 1910. She said she did not know who brought the advertisement to the office.

The advertisement was previously identified as in the handwriting of Schmidt.

It is charged by the prosecution that this launch was used for the transportation of the dynamite alleged to have been used in the Times explosion from Giant, Cal., to San Francisco.

A TRAINED CHARITY WORKER IS TO LOOK AFTER NEEDY HERE

Special Investigation to Be Made For Distribution of Christmas Gifts

Miss Mabel R. Haines, who has had training as a charity worker in New York City, arrived here yesterday to work with the Associated Charities, the Elks and others who plan to do charity giving at Christmas. Miss Haines will be here until Christmas day, and will investigate the conditions of those whose names have been given as worthy, needy persons to whom Christmas gifts would be a God-send.

Miss Haines is to be the guest of Mrs. Lawton while here. She was formerly with the Outdoor Relief Work in Los Angeles county and has been connected with the immigration work of the Y. W. C. A.

"Unless giving is done systematically and scientifically," said Miss Haines, "some will receive aid who do not really need it, others will be missed who do need it and others will receive more than they need."

BROTHERS MEET AFTER THIRTY-FOUR YEARS

Leading Steel Manufacturer of Sweden Visiting Relatives at Garden Grove

GARDEN GROVE, Dec. 16.—A. O. Blom and daughter, Miss Mina, of Stockholm, Sweden, are visiting Mr. Blom's brother, A. G. Blom, of Garden Grove.

The two brothers had not seen each other for thirty-four years until they met here. This is Mr. Blom's first visit in America and he is charmed with Southern California. Mr. Blom is the largest iron and steel merchant in Sweden. He owns his own ships for the export of his products. Miss Mina is an accomplished pianist, having studied under the best masters in Europe.

Mrs. A. W. Stark and daughter, Beatrice, of Milwaukee are also visiting the Bloms. Mrs. Stark is a sister of Mr. Blom. Needless to say, the Blom ranch is a happy one.

Mrs. A. G. Blom has fully recovered from an attack of acute bronchitis.

Tripp-Warner Wedding

Glen Warner of Boise and Miss Ethel Tripp of Garden Grove departed on the 12:43 car Monday amid showers of rice for Los Angeles, where they were united in marriage. The best wishes of their many friends here go with them. They will make their home in Placentia and will be at home to their friends after Monday, December 20. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mrs. H. B. Stone.

Mr. Johnson and family, Ed McComas and Charley Johnson of Laredo, Texas, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. E. Bearseley.

Mr. Taylor and family of Montana have moved here and are living on the E. Bearseley ranch.

Lecture on Japan

Mr. Donelson of Fullerton gave a very interesting and instructive lecture with stereopticon views of Japan and the customs of the people, at the Japanese Mission Monday evening. Mr. Donelson is the Latin teacher at the Fullerton High School and was a teacher in Japan for several years, and both he and his wife speak the Japanese language.

Minister Is Dead

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Newsom, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Chaffee and Mrs. W. B. Harper attended the funeral of Rev. Silas Sprules in Los Angeles Monday afternoon. Rev. Sprules was pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Garden Grove over twenty-five years ago, and was much esteemed by those who knew him here.

Christmas Cantata

Sunday evening, December 19, at 7 o'clock the big chorus choir of the Methodist church will render a Christmas Cantata entitled "The Adoration" by George Nevin. The choir is rehearsing this Cantata under the instruction of their newly-secured director, Mrs. C. B. Evans, of Los Angeles. The public of Garden Grove is cordially invited to come and hear this Christmas story of the Christ told in sacred song.

Grove News Items

The Young Women's Missionary Circle of the Baptist Church will meet with Miss Edith Hedstrom Friday evening. The young ladies are to meet at the church at 5 p. m. and go from there to the Hedstrom home.

Mrs. Silas Lasell and her mother, Mrs. Matherson, of Wanbury, South Dakota, were guests of Miss Amy Graves several days last week.

Miss Aletha Churchill and Miss Roe Williams of the Bible Institute of Los Angeles spent the week end in Garden Grove. Miss Williams expects to return soon to her missionary work in Egypt under the United Presbyterian Board. She had to leave Egypt for a time on account of ill health. She gave a very interesting talk on her work in Egypt Sunday afternoon at the Baptist Junior Society and in the evening at the Senior B. Y. P. U.

Mr. and Mrs. Bullock of Huntington Park and daughter, Mrs. Robinson, and two children of Alhambra were guests at the Hedstrom home Sunday.

Mrs. Bowerman and Mrs. Burnham of Seattle, who have been visiting at the Kimball home for several days, left Wednesday for Los Angeles.

Mr. Crane has been quite sick for several days.

W. Wells, who has been confined to his bed for a week, is able to sit up a little.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rolfe moved last week to the Ricks place on Acacia street, which they recently purchased. They have rented their ranch home, three-fourths of a mile north.

A party consisting of Messrs. J. O. Arley, I. Sawyer, Watson, Herman Christensen, Martin Christensen and Albert Christensen returned Monday evening from Orange Cove. The Christensen brothers and Mr. Arley have land at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. M. E. Saylor attended the turkey dinner at the Relief Corps in Santa Ana Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Latschaw and Mrs. Burroughs of Los Angeles spent Sunday at the Kimball home.

Mr. and Mrs. Spalding of Saint Johnsbury, Vermont, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Russell for a couple of days last week.

Mrs. John Springfield of Los Angeles was the guest of Miss Kimball one day last week.

Mr. Max Seidenberg of Los Angeles was entertained Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. McKeen.

The Tuesday Afternoon Club was entertained by Mrs. Evans at the home of Mrs. McConnell Tuesday afternoon, December 14th. Roll call was responded to by current events of interest. The usual business was transacted. Mrs. Bovey was appointed secretary to fill the vacancy caused by Mrs. Downs' absence. Delicious refreshments were served and the ladies adjourned to meet with Mrs. Fitz the second Tuesday in January.

Mrs. Martin Christensen returned from a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. Don of Eagle Rock, Monday night.

PROVIDING FOR RECOIL

The quick-firing field gun used by the French and British is equipped with a most ingenious device for taking up the recoil. When it is fired the gun slides along guides on the top of a steel box, called the cradle. Inside of the cradle, and attached to the gun, is a piston, which is driven by the recoil into a cylinder filled with glycerin. The glycerin is forced through narrow channels into a reservoir full of compressed air, which it further compresses. This friction brings the gun to rest after it has recoiled, and then forces the glycerin back into the piston and returns the gun to the firing position once more.

HUNTINGTON BEACH

BEACH CITY NOW GOING AHEAD AT RAPID PAC

Municipal Improvements and Building of Homes Mark Its Advancement

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 16.—That Huntington Beach is progressing more at the present time than any of its sister cities about the same size is evidenced by the large amount of improvement work that is going on. In addition to the roads and walks, the sewers and school buildings, a large number of private residences have either been completed recently or are now in process of construction.

This is especially noticeable in the case of citizens who have resided here for a number of years and have lived as tenants in rented houses. A number of these have built modern homes costing from $1500 to $3000 in the past few months.

Another sure evidence of business progress is to be seen in the increase in postoffice receipts. November a year ago showed receipts for a period of $1,591.03, while November of this year showed $1,773.19 for a similar period, an increase of $182.16 or about twelve per cent.

URIC ACID SOLVENT

50 Cent Bottle (32 Doses)
FREE

Just because you start the day worried and tired, stiff legs and arms and muscles, an aching head, burning and burning down pains in the back—worn out before the day begins—do not think you have to stay in that condition.

Be strong, well and vigorous, with no more pains from stiff joints, sore muscles, rheumatic suffering, aching back or kidney disease.

For any form of bladder trouble or weakness, its action is really wonderful. Those sufferers who are in and out of bed half a dozen times a night will appreciate the rest, comfort and strength this treatment gives.

To prove The Williams Treatment conquers kidney and bladder diseases, rheumatism and all uric acid troubles, no matter how chronic or stubborn, if you have never tried The Williams Treatment, we will give you one 50c bottle (32 doses) free if you will cut out this notice and send it with your name and address, with 10c to help pay distribution expenses, to The Dr. D. A. Williams Company, Dept. 2729, New P. O. Block, East Hampton, Conn. Send at once and you will receive by parcel post a regular 50c bottle, without charge and without incurring any obligations.

WILL COST DILL TO TAKE SEAT IN CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The day Congressman C. C. Dill from Washington state rises up in Congress and makes his maiden speech it's going to cost him twenty-five cents. No, more than that—twenty-five cents plus compound interest thereon for 14 years. The congressman, this session's youngest, has owed that quarter ever since he was 16. His creditor is Mrs. Fanny Berry Bell, Mt. Gilead, Ohio, and she has his note to prove it. It reads:

"Fredericktown, O., Mar. 10, 1901.

"For value rec'd I promise to pay Fanny Berry Bell the sum of twenty-five cents with compound interest at 6 per cent when I shall have made my first speech in the State Legislature or the United States Congress or shall have won my first fight in either.

"C. C. DILL."

That note may account for the fact that Dill is a national lawmaker at so early an age. He simply couldn't wait any longer to get that debt off his mind. The circumstances were these:

Dill lived on a rented farm near Fredericktown, Ohio. Mrs. Bell was the wife of the owner. On one corner of the farm was the Salem M. E. Church and one day a box social was announced for Saturday night at the church. Mrs. Bell asked young Dill if he were going. Nope, didn't have the necessary quarter, he explained cheerfully.

"I'll lend it to you," she said.

"Don't know when I can pay it back," he demurred.

"Pay it back when you make your first speech in Congress," she suggested. Dill, being a terribly earnest young man, had made no secret of the fact that he was going to Congress some day. The farm had accepted the money and drew up the note.

"He had a good time at the social, untroubled by his new financial burden. Five or six years later he fell into the camp of Tom Johnson and became one of his secretaries during his gubernatorial campaign. After the campaign Johnson asked him what he was going to do.

"I'm going to Congress," said Dill.

"All right," said Johnson; "You go out West and pick out some good, growing town and stay there till they send you."

Dill went to Spokane, Wash. And here he is.

KEEP CHILDREN OFF OF RAILROAD TRACKS

The following letter sent to the Spokane Spokesman review by the wife of a railroad engineer calls vividly to mind the greswome headlines one sees in the paper every day of people killed on railroad crossings and right-of-way.

"I would like to speak a few words on safety of women, and mothers, in particular. I wish it were in my power to be able to make all children realize the danger there is of walking on or crossing railroad tracks when there is a train coming. As the wife of an engineer, I have ways of knowing this better than wives of men in other lines of work. It is impossible to stop a heavy passenger or freight train in time to save you if you are on a track a few feet in front of a moving train. On a down grade or slippery rails it is more dangerous than on a level or dry track. I feel sure the public does not realize the horror an engineer feels when he can not stop his train in time to avoid running over some one, especially a child. Try to think how you would feel in his place. It is much worse than sickness. The railroad companies are doing their best to protect you, as you would know, could you see the orders they give their men if there is any danger ahead, to lose all time necessary to insure safety, and the railroads like to be on time. The men try their best to safeguard you, out the safest way for us all is to stay off the tracks whenever possible."—Mrs. E. B. Sharp, Spokane, Wash.

Why is it that people will not stop and look before crossing a railroad track?

Why is it that accident after accident occurs on crossings where there is a clear view of the track in both directions?

Why is it that parents will allow their children to play on the railroad right of way and consider themselves abused if the company tries to keep them off?

It is impossible to answer the above questions except to say that the average person is simply careless and pays no attention to warnings.

Figures just published by officials of the Southern Pacific Company show that some 214,000 people have been killed on the railroads of the United States in the last twenty-five years, and that of this number 113,489 or over 55 per cent were trespassers.

The railroads are using every means possible to obviate these accidents, but with the ever increasing traffic on the roads and crossings, it has become imperative that the public generally be more careful.

It is a strange thing to have to urge persons to protect themselves from being killed by their own foolish acts, but that is exactly what has to be done.

Lookout for the crossings and keep off the private right of way and bridges of railroads.

SIGNIFICANCE IS ATTACHED TO SURRENDER

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16.—Captain T. A. M. Anderson of the American steamer Sacramento, who was secretly indicted by the federal grand jury last July and for whom the United States authorities have been searching, has surprised the officials by voluntarily surrendering to United States Marshal Houlihan. He was released on $1000 cash bail.

Anderson, with others, is charged with violating United States neutrality. He was the captain of the Sacramento, which as the German vessel Alexandria, was refused clearance from this port a year ago just after the visit of the cruiser Leipzig.

Later under American registry and a different name with a cargo billed for C. B. Bunker & Company, Valparaiso, Chile, she was finally allowed to sail.

According to the allegations in the indictments, the Sacramento did not go to its destination, but met the German war vessels at the Masafreurs islands, in the South Pacific ocean. Without lights and with fog horn silent, the cargo of the Sacramento, which consisted of fuel and provisions, was transferred to the warships by means of barges.

The grand jury brought true bills against President Thayer of Northern & Southern Steamship Company and R. H. Swayne, John G. Hoyt, C. D. Bunker and Joseph L. Bley, custom house brokers, Swayne and Hoyt, and the Northern & Southern Steamship Company.

That Anderson was among the indicted was not made public until he surrendered. In the indictments it was claimed that $146,500 had been paid by the German consulate, in charge of Consul General Von Bopp, to the promoters of the cruise.

The members of the Sacramento crew were discharged at Valparaiso. Captain Anderson's whereabouts has been a mystery until now. His surrender at this time, while Von Bopp is under fire, is significant.

BAY CITY BOASTS 'BARN' RESTAURANT

SAN FRANCISCO.—One of the most unique places to be found in this city is a restaurant known as "The Manger," run by an Italian. The entire interior of the place is built and furnished like the inside of a barn, with hay mows filled with real hay, sickles and scythes hanging on wooden pegs, old lanterns, horseshoes, horns of cattle and other animals, stuffed roosters and birds, and dried roots and plants hung at every conceivable point.

Most marvelous of all are the beautiful candlesticks formed by allowing the colored wax from alternatingly used red and green candles to drip down the sides of tall wine bottles, forming a bright and heavily fringed covering for the upper part of the bottles, which projects out several inches all around and gives the appearance of a palm tree after its branches have become dead and bent down around the trunk.

Many curious signs are hung about the establishment. At the foot of the stairway leading up to the restaurant is a sign roughly painted on a board which bears this queer injunction: "Drive Your Horses Right Up and Turn to the Left for the Barn." The door at the bottom of the stairway is a heavy wooden one of stout planks and beams, with a long wooden catch which must be lifted before the door can be opened, and a cowbell attached to the door loudly announces each visitor.

Another sign, attached to a gate leading into the grill, forbids shooting, firing, camping, cutting trees, starting fires, etc. Still another sign reads: "When You Open the Gate Close it Again—Don't Let the Bull Out of the Corral."

The waiters have a unique method of adding local color to the scene by dressing in the full regalia of a cowboy.

WILLOW WOOD IN DEMAND

MARTINSBURG, W. Va.—As a result of excessive contracts for artificial limbs placed in this country by the Allies, acres of yellow willow in this section have become valuable.

THEFT SUSPECTS CAPTURED IN GUN DUEL

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—Barricaded behind railroad ties and armed with a shotgun, three men gave battle to a posse of deputy sheriffs four miles north of Acton yesterday and were captured only after their ammunition was exhausted.

Pursued from the scene of the burglary of the home of Mrs. Ella Fitch, the men fled across country, leading the officers through a wild and unsettled section.

As Deputy Sheriffs Platz and Hilt drew in upon the trio, the pursued men took advantage of a pile of railroad ties which formed a crude block-house and there stood off the officers for more than an hour.

In response to an appeal for reinforcements, Sheriff Cline despatched Deputies Dennison and Warts in the sheriff's fast new car. A few minutes after the local officers, heavily armed, left, word was received that the men had surrendered and were being held awaiting the arrival of the officers from here.

Mrs. Fitch, a widow, lives alone in a cottage at Acton. During her absence yesterday morning the house was burglarized. She arrived soon after the intruders had left and finding that a gun, some clothing and a purse containing several dollars had been taken, notified Platz.

After a brief investigation Platz commandeered a passing automobile and set out on the trail of the three men. According to the report received here Platz and Hilt were forced to abandon the automobile shortly after sighting the men, as the pursued trio left the road and ran into the broken country.

The two officers continued the chase on foot until they reached the railroad right-of-way, finding the officers were gaining fast, the trio took refuge behind the tie barricade and opened fire. The officers returned the fire, and after several volleys had been exhausted, the three men surrendered.

GETS HEALTH BACK BY FASTING FIVE MONTHS

GREENSBURG, Ind.—By subsisting for five months on $4 worth of meal tickets, Prof. George Keeley, an investor of this city, has restored his health after physicians had predicted his death from malignant gastritis. The disease was the result of a life-long habit of overeating. A light meal once a week, supplemented by plenty of cold water, served to keep him alive until the disease had entirely disappeared, and now Keeley expects to eat a moderate meal once each day. He is 60 years old.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Subject tomorrow at 7:30:
"The Mastery of Environment."
Saturday night, special High School and Sunday School night.
Tomorrow last afternoon meeting of revival.

Last night at the beginning of the tabernacle service, it looked as though the congregation would be about the smallest of the four weeks' campaign, but before the sermon began the big tent filled up and with the largest choir of week day nights, the audience was a large one.

Rev. E. J. Inwood offered a characteristic prayer and Mr. Gulce sang one of his inspiring hymns, "Because His Name is Jesus."

Evangelist Price, answering the subject of his sermon, "What is it That a Man Most Wants?" read the eighth and ninth chapters of Ephesians, beginning, "For by grace are ye saved through faith."

Some people will reply to this question, that man most wants money, but riches do not bring one hour of real peace, contentment and satisfaction; it does not bring that something that man craves.

Then there are the things that money will buy all the luxuries which some years ago people ordinarily would not think of wanting and which is today not called the high cost of living but the cost of high living.
America today is living far beyond

FOUR thousand two hundred Armenians were recently saved from the Turks by the French, who took them to a camp in Port Said. The Turkish authorities told the Armenians living in Suedia to sell their possessions and be ready in seven days' time to be moved to a distant part of the country. During their week of grace they climbed the nearest mountain, which dominates the Syrian coast and there they fought off the Turks for seven weeks. They could not have held out much longer, when a French warship noticed a large Red Cross flag on the top of the mountain. A boat was sent ashore and the situation having been explained, other boats were brought and the entire party of refugees was taken off. The needs of these poor people are now being taken care of by the Armenians and English of Cairo.

her means. And of the people that have everything which money can purchase, the majority have not one moment of peace and contentment in the mere filling of their desire for luxuries.

Wants Eternal Life
When driven to an acknowledgment of the truth, the thing that man most wants is life, not merely the life of this world, but eternal life. Deep in every human heart there is the thirst for everlasting life. Even the great Voltaire, who in the hour of death, pleaded for a guarantee of a little more life, said: "Then I must die and go to hell."

Everybody craves the consciousness and the assurance of something better beyond the grave and the chief desire is the promise of everlasting life.

The speaker then informed his interested hearers of the sources of information regarding the way to obtain this chief desire. Not through philosophy, which, although it helps to live a good moral life and gives much pleasurable information of things good to know, is dumb on the subject of the unknown life beyond. Then there is science, especially medical science, which does miraculous things, even to repairing the heart after being pierced with a knife, but there comes a time when doctors and nurses must stand aside with folded hands, their sources of information ended.

If eternal life is what we want, the only way is to study God's word, and it is His word alone which promises
it. We cannot earn it, either honestly or dishonestly, we cannot beat our way into heaven, we cannot buy our way there; then what must we do?
Somebody must GIVE it to us. Eternal life is the gift of God and to obtain it there is but one road, the way of Christ and the Bible. If you don't so that way, you won't go.

Has Christ Made Good?
Reading from the forty-second chapter of Isaiah and selecting for his text the words, "He shall not fail," Evangelist Price yesterday afternoon preached a pleasing sermon on why Christ made good and why other men do not.

The speaker began by saying that men have said that because of the war now going on in so-called Christian countries, that Christianity has failed, but saying it with all reverence he did not think that there is really a Christian nation. Christianity has to do with individual men and women.

Christ was not a success merely on account of His great cause but because the Man Himself made good. Why is it that men fail and Christ succeeded?
It was because he found an occupation into which he fitted. Men fail because they fail to find the place where God wants them to be and where they can do their best. Men fail because of unsatisfactory social conditions. They are suspicious of one another and like the old Quaker who came home from a trip which he was describing to his wife, said, "Wife, I beheld that everybody is queer except three and me and sometimes I am suspicious of thee." We fail because we are always looking for the flaws and miss all the good, forgetting

"That there is so much bad in the best of us
And so much good in the worst of us,
That it hardly behooves any of us
To speak ill of the rest of us."

Other reasons mentioned of why Christ made good, were that He was not an extremist. He practiced self-control. He was unselfish. He was safe, busy, not forgetting the little things while doing the big ones, and was humble. Men can climb to the greatest heights if they can stand the altitude.

Rev. Price closed with the advice that a close study be made of the life of Christ.

FREIGHT JAM AT NEW YORK HITS RAILROADS

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—"So great is the congestion of freight at the port of New York that shippers are diverting traffic to other ports," said the foreign agent of one of the largest railroads that enter New York.

"The situation is very serious, indeed. There seems to be no immediate way of remedying the situation.
In fact, it threatens to get worse.
What is more, it is rapidly reaching the point where there is no money in it for the railroads. Every day it costs us more to handle the business on account of the additional cost of switching and demurrage charges."

"Many wise shippers are diverting their freight to other ports. Baltimore, Philadelphia, Boston and Portland are getting their share. The volume of business shipped via the port of New York exceeds all records and is giving the railroads about all that they can swing. If we could regulate the arrival of steamers, a thing which no one can do, the situation would be better."

"Some times we have more boats than we have facilities for loading, and at the rest of the time there are not enough boats to carry away the freight."

"The season of storms is coming on now, and it is getting increasingly more difficult to figure the dates of arrival of ships, which, of course, causes a further piling up of freight."

U. S. EXPERT SAYS ORANGE SHOW VITAL TO STATE INDUSTRY

SAN BERNARDINO.—Dr. A. D.
Shammel, in charge of the citrus fruit experiments of the United States Department of Agriculture, recently declared the National Orange Show, the annual exposition staged here by the citrus fruit men of California, was of vast importance to the industry.

Dr. Shammel was one of the speakers at the banquet of the members of the awards committee of the Sixth National Orange Show, to be held February 17-24. He said that he had visited two of the previous expositions and saw in addition to the charm and beauty, the importance of the orange show in both advertising the industry to the world and demonstrating to the growers the value of technical knowledge. He declared it was important that this year the state fruit growers' convention would be held in connection with the exposition.

The awards committee discussed details of the methods which will be adopted in the selection of the world's best fruit, and Southern California members said they had been advised growers of the southland were making preparations to attempt to return the honors for oranges won by Lindsay and Lemons won by Carpinteria, Santa Barbara county, in the 1915 show.

ORANGE GROVE OWNERS WILL TALK BUILDING

Building May Be Leased and Machinery Installed At Garden Grove

GARDEN GROVE, Dec. 16.—The Orange Growers Association will meet Saturday night, at which time the members will discuss how the fruit will be handled, whether direct from a plant here or through the Orange Association. A committee will be appointed to canvass the growers and see how many will sign up. If enough acreage is secured a building will be leased and machinery installed. There are over 1000 acres in oranges in this section, many three and four years old and coming into bearing. The time is not far off when Garden Grove will have a larger acreage in bearing than is held by any other association in Orange county. At the last meeting the by-laws were adopted and the organization completed. The officers are: J. O. Arkley, president; Fred Andres, vice-president; D. Eymann Huff, secretary-treasurer. The directors are J. O. Arkley, W. W. Dungan, J. W. Crill, C. A. Westgate, N. L. Russell and Fred Andres and Ed Dozier.

50,000 CHILDREN CAUSE BIG ROW

CLEVELAND.—Once more is Edmund Vance Cooke, poet and author, at the head of a hot anti-vaccination fight in Cleveland. To vaccinate is a question being disputed by the parents and other relatives of Cleveland's 50,000 unvaccinated boys and girls of school age. There are 40,000 school children here altogether. A report issued by the Cleveland Foundation school survey committee, opposed to Cooke's faction, predicts a repetition of the 1902 smallpox epidemic in which 224 persons died, unless the 1912 city ordinance requiring all school children to be vaccinated, is enforced.

Cooke led the anti-vaccination fight in 1911, winning it after a hard fight. He resumed the fight immediately the question came up again. His contention is that as many deaths result from the effects of vaccination as result from the diseases, to prevent which the vaccination is performed.

"The preventive is as bad as the disease," said Cooke today, "and right now, when there is no epidemic, is the time to settle this question once and for all." For failure to enforce the ordinance, School Superintendent Frederick may be fined $200 and imprisoned for 60 days, in each, which would make about 8000 years for him to serve if he does not vaccinate the children and the ordinance is strictly enforced.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

Prices of the various food commodities remained stationary yesterday, with the single exception of cabbage, which is cheaper at $1.15 a sack. Shipments of new navels continue to increase and Los Angeles has rather a top-heavy supply of the same on hand. The supply of Hawaiian pineapples is greater and dealers are finding a ready market for ripe pines at 6 to 7 cents a pound. Persimmons and pomegranates are beginning to wind up. The season this year was not any too successful for either fruit, the public not taking to them enough to create an adequate demand.

J-M ASBESTOS ROOFING

is a combination of the famous Asbestos (rock) fiber and the great weatherproof, Trinidad Lake Asphalt. Fire, time or weather cannot affect it.

It will stand for any length of time fire tests that would destroy in a few minutes any of the so-called fire resisting roofings. J-M Asbestos Roofing never requires painting, graveling or repairing.

It saves money and worry from the day it is laid.

NOT BOOK BUT REAL FAIRIES ARE AGRICULTURAL STUDENTS

"Only a farm farmer" does not apply to the agricultural students of the University of California. As a result of questioning its six hundred regular students, the College of Agriculture found they average nineteen months actual experience in full day's work on the farm. Even the freshmen reported an average of eleven months and fourteen days of full day's work on ranches, orchards and vineyards.

Moreover, 41 per cent reported that they had been brought up on a farm, while 32 per cent came to the University directly from farm homes. These sidelights on agricultural teaching are set forth by Prof. B. H. Crocheron in the December number of the University of California Journal of Agriculture, published by the students of the University.

This past experience is perhaps one reason why practice in farm work was declared less valuable as a part of their college course than laboratory and demonstration instruction by a vote of two and a half to one. However, all the agricultural students have as a part of their course farm practice, travel trips to farms, lectures, and text-book and recitation as well as the laboratory and demonstration work which the majority of them regard as the most indispensable part of their training.

The great interest in experiment and discovery in agriculture which is being kindled in the university by the research achievements of the agricultural professors is reflected by the fact that 20 per cent of the students of the College of Agriculture reported an ambition to enter experiment station or government research work. To go into farming was declared their definite purpose by 65 per cent of the students.

"Will you have to go to work for wages when you graduate, or will you be financially able to commence farming for yourself?" was asked of the agricultural students. Of the freshmen 53.7 per cent hopefully replied that they expected to be financially able to commence farming on graduation, but the seniors, with more knowledge of what it really costs to set up as a farmer, judged their opportunities differently, and four out of five replied they must begin by working for wages.

And if four out of five of the university's own agricultural students are unable to go to farming for themselves on graduation because of lack of money and credit, but must work for wages, then it is no wonder Dean Thomas F. Hunt, Prof. Elwood Mead and other members of the faculty of the College of Agriculture are doing their level best to awaken the people of California to the crying need of a rural credit system such as almost every civilized nation except the United States already has which will make it possible for ambitious and capable young men to make a start in farming for themselves early in life.

Prices of the various food commodities remained stationary yesterday, with the single exception of cabbage, which is cheaper at $1.15 a sack. Shipments of new navels continue to increase and Los Angeles has rather a top-heavy supply of the same on hand. The supply of Hawaiian pineapples is greater and dealers are finding a ready market for ripe pines at 6 to 7 cents a pound. Persimmons and pomegranates are beginning to wind up. The season this year was not any too successful for either fruit, the public not taking to them enough to create an adequate demand.

Information Regarding the Pasteurization of Milk

What the Most Modern and Sanitary Dairy in Orange County is Doing for the Betterment of Dairy Products

What is to be understood by PASTEURIZATION of milk? That is a very important question just now in view of the new State Dairy Law that will soon go into effect. And another very important question is:

WHO IS YOUR MILK MAN? There is no more important question for any one who is the head of a family to answer than that. To an adult the subject of health is a personal matter; to a child it is a condition almost wholly under the control of the parent. As milk good or poor enters very largely into the diet of most children, hence the importance of the question, "WHO IS YOUR MILKMAN?"

On January 1st at least one man who is now supplying milk to numerous homes of our town is to quit and another man takes his place. This same thing has occurred several times during the past year. The writer has during this time "bought out" several routes. When our new driver commenced deliveries there were very few "quits," to begin with. This I attributed to the fact that I had taken the public into my confidence, had tried to explain to them what I was trying to do for the milk supply of our town.

During the past year I have spent much time and money in studying the "milk question." I have invited you to visit the most modern dairy in the county; I have talked in favor of an efficient city milk and dairy inspection. Last July I attended the convention of the National Milkmen held in San Francisco. There I heard the leading milkmen of the country and they all spoke of the need of the most modern methods to insure clean and safe milk. In a word it was Pasteurization.

Last winter Nathan Straus, that noted New York philanthropist, spent much of his time while out here on the coast in creating public sentiment in favor of clean and safe milk. He was asked to address the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce on the subject. A little later he went to Sacramento and appeared before the State Legislature and spoke in favor of rigid state laws regulating and controlling the milk supply of the state. He pleaded for pasteurized milk. The result was that there was a drastic (as it is called by some) law passed and signed by Governor Johnson that will revolutionize the dairy industry of the State.

In a few months the question, "WHO IS YOUR MILKMAN?" will not be of such importance to you as it is now. Then all of the milk sold will have to be supplied from cows that have passed the tuberculin test and showed no reaction, or will have to be pasteurized. When that day comes all milk will be reasonably safe, I say "reasonably safe." But milk may be taken from tested cows and still be produced under such unsanitary conditions that it is not fit to use. But this same law classifies the milk into three classes, and milk to be used in the home must have such a low bacteria count that it will have to be produced under right conditions.

A few days ago a woman came into the store of the Excelsior Dairy Co., at 304 West Fourth St., and asked what sort of milk we were handling. We told her that all our milk and cream was pasteurized. "All right," she said, "that is just what I want." She had been living in a large city where she had been used to getting pasteurized milk, and was afraid that she would not be able to get the same here. We find that the people who know are now asking for and demanding pasteurized milk. The day is not far distant when all butter will even be made from pasteurized cream.

The question now comes what is meant by pasteurization. In the first place let it be stated that it is not a process to be used with dirty milk. Dirty milk will always be dirty milk. Pasteurization is not a substitute for cleanliness, cleanliness is not a substitute for pasteurization; for both are necessary for good, safe milk.

Prof. M. J. Rosenau, of Harvard University, says:

"Pasteurization simply means parboiling. The heat kills the harmful germs that are too often found in milk, such as tuberculosis, typhoid, diphtheria, scarlet fever, sore throat, and the summer complaints of infants."

Pasteurization has only one object—to destroy these germs in milk. Pasteurization is the simplest, cheapest, and least objectionable method of rendering infected milk safe.

There can be no more objection to pasteurized milk for the use of adults and children over two years of age than there can be to the broiling of a beef steak.

The correct temperature to heat the milk is 140 degrees for twenty minutes. Higher heat or longer time is unnecessary. Anything less is not effective and gives a false sense of security.

Pasteurization saves lives and prevents sickness.

Pasteurization is simply an acknowledgment that raw milk may be dangerous milk and that heating it is the simplest and most effective way of eliminating these dangers. Pasteurization is the cheapest form of life insurance the consumer can take out.

Pasteurization as done by the Excelsior Dairy Co. is of the most modern method. We have a 1915 model Wizard pasteurizer of 300 gallons capacity. In the first place all of our milk comes from dairies that are regularly inspected by an inspector working under the Los Angeles City Board of Health. We were forced to this for we wanted inspected milk, and the City of Santa Ana has no inspector. This milk as it reaches the plant is poured into the pasteurizer and the heat is turned on. It takes about 20 minutes to bring it up to 140 to 142 degrees temperature. Then the steam is turned off and it is held at this same temperature for 20 minutes. Then it is pumped with a large sanitary milk pump up over the large cooler and ice cold brine within this cooler quickly brings this milk down to a temperature of about 40 degrees. Now it is bottled and capped, and put away in the refrigerator room, where it is held until it comes time for delivery. We are certainly doing our part to give this City, Orange, Newport and Balboa a good and safe milk.

Let me go a little further right here, and I will say that I firmly believe that the Excelsior Dairy Co., is putting out to its many satisfied patrons and friends the best milk that is sold on the entire Pacific Coast. I have just returned from a trip to San Francisco, Sacramento, Berkeley, Oakland, Stockton and Fresno, and nowhere are they getting for their money what you are getting right here from the EXCELSIOR DAIRY COMPANY. Most of those places are paying 10 cents per quart for milk that tests from 3.5 to 4.4 per cent of butter fat. Most of the milkmen are now pasteurizing; all are planning to soon begin the process of pasteurization. Here you get milk that tests from 4.8 to 5 per cent butter fat, and it is pasteurized, and clean and safe, and the price is right, 10 cents per quart, and 5 cents per pint. We are in the business to stay. We know that our product is right, and the very best on the market. If you are particular about the quality of your milk we want your patronage.

The milk of the future is to be PASTEURIZED MILK. Why not begin right now, and insure your family by the use of SAFE MILK?

MR. TAFT ASKS SUPPORT FOR PEACE LEAGUE

Letter Urging Sentiment Is Received By President of Local Body

Ex-President Taft has written to the president of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, asking him and the other members of his organization to co-operate in an effort to create sentiment among business men in favor of a national plan for world peace, to be worked out through international agreement after peace has been declared in Europe. The same letter has been sent to chambers of commerce all over the country.

Arguing that the recurrence of such a conflict as now rages in Europe ought if possible, to be prevented, Mr. Taft urges the members of the organization to co-operate in an effort to mould public opinion both in this country and abroad, in favor of a league of the great powers, who shall agree not to go to war in any case, until the question has been passed upon judicially, the nations agreeing also to use their joint military and economic forces against any nation refusing to keep the pact.

Mr. Taft refers particularly to the referendum of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America on the report of that body's special committee on "Economic Results of the War and American Business."

Mr. Taft's request is made at this time in view of the fact that the referendum in question outlines a plan for world peace, almost identical with that contained in the proposals of the League to Enforce Peace, which was organized by Mr. Taft, President A. Lawrence Lowell, of Harvard University, and other men of nationwide prominence at Philadelphia in Independence Hall, last June. Mr. Taft, who is the president of the League, writes as follows:

"The friendly reference made to the platform of the League to Enforce Peace on page four of Referendum No. 11 of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America seems to the officers of the League to create a natural occasion for calling it to your personal attention, and to that of your members."

"At the same time I want to extend a very cordial invitation to you, and through you to the members of your organization, to join the league and to co-operate with it as actively as you are able in the organization that is about to be undertaken in your state."

"The irremediable injury that would result to the whole world in case a way should not be found, at the close of the European conflict, to make war less threatening, and to render it less frequent, has induced a considerable number of leaders in the realms both of statesmanship and of business to combine in an effort to create sentiment in our own and other countries, in favor of the proposals that were put forward at the Philadelphia conference."

"The obvious and urgent need that led the committee of the Chamber to draw up its admirable report, and the board of directors to authorize its submission, is an eloquent argument in favor of a combined effort to do all which human ingenuity and devotion can, to prevent the recurrence of such a catastrophe as the world is now experiencing."

The proposals of the League to Enforce Peace, referred to in Mr. Taft's communication, which were adopted at the Independence Hall meeting are:

That the United States join a league of nations, who shall agree to the following:

1. The establishment of an international tribunal or world court, which shall pass on all justiciable questions arising between nations.

2. The establishment of an international tribunal to be known as a council of conciliation which shall pass on all non-justiciable questions, questions which cannot be settled in accordance with the principles of law and equity.

3. The signatory powers to use forthwith their joint economic and military forces against any nation which has joined the league, but which goes to war, or begins acts of hostility against another of the signatories, without first submitting its quarrel to a court or board of arbitrators, as provided in sections one and two.

4. The adoption of a code of international law through a series of international conferences.

The Independence Hall proposals contain no provision for enforcing the verdict of the arbitrators. Under the proposed plan any nation that is dissatisfied with the decree may go to war without fear of adverse action on the part of the league.

SPEEDING AT RIVERSIDE IS TO BE CURBED

Motorists are advised that Riverside is soon to have a motorcycle speed cop whose duty will be to prevent speeding on the Riverside streets.

The Riverside chief of police was authorized to appoint a speed officer for a period of one month. If his services are satisfactory and it is apparent that there is a need for such an officer, it is likely that he will be continued indefinitely.

The official selected will use his own machine and will have authority to make arrests for speeding anywhere in the city limits of Riverside.

The Riverside ordinance provides that machines may park against the curb diagonally at an angle of not more than forty-five degrees on the following streets: Main, between Sixth and Tenth; Seventh, between Orange and Market, and Eighth, between Orange and Market.

It also regulates speed limits as follows: Fifteen miles an hour in the business district except at street intersections where it shall be twelve miles an hour; twenty miles an hour in the closely built up districts of the city; twenty-five miles an hour outside of the closely built up districts; fifteen miles an hour passing school property on school days.

Violation of the provisions of the ordinance carry a penalty of $100 fine and 30 days in jail for the first offense, 90 days for the second offense, and six months for the third offense.

PAJAMA-CLAD HARVARD MAN QUITS FAST TRAIN

ALTOONA, Pa.—Unable to recall recent happenings, Louis E. Barber, a Harvard senior, walked into the Pennsylvania railroad telegraph tower at Gallitzin at 1:25 the other morning, clad only in his pajamas, an overcoat and shoes. Blood trickled from a cut over his right eye. He was dazed.

The company surgeon was summoned and found that Barber could not recall how he came to be in Gallitzin. He said he was a son of Edward Barber, a merchant at Reno, Nevada. He consented to come to Altoona hospital, where he became violent.

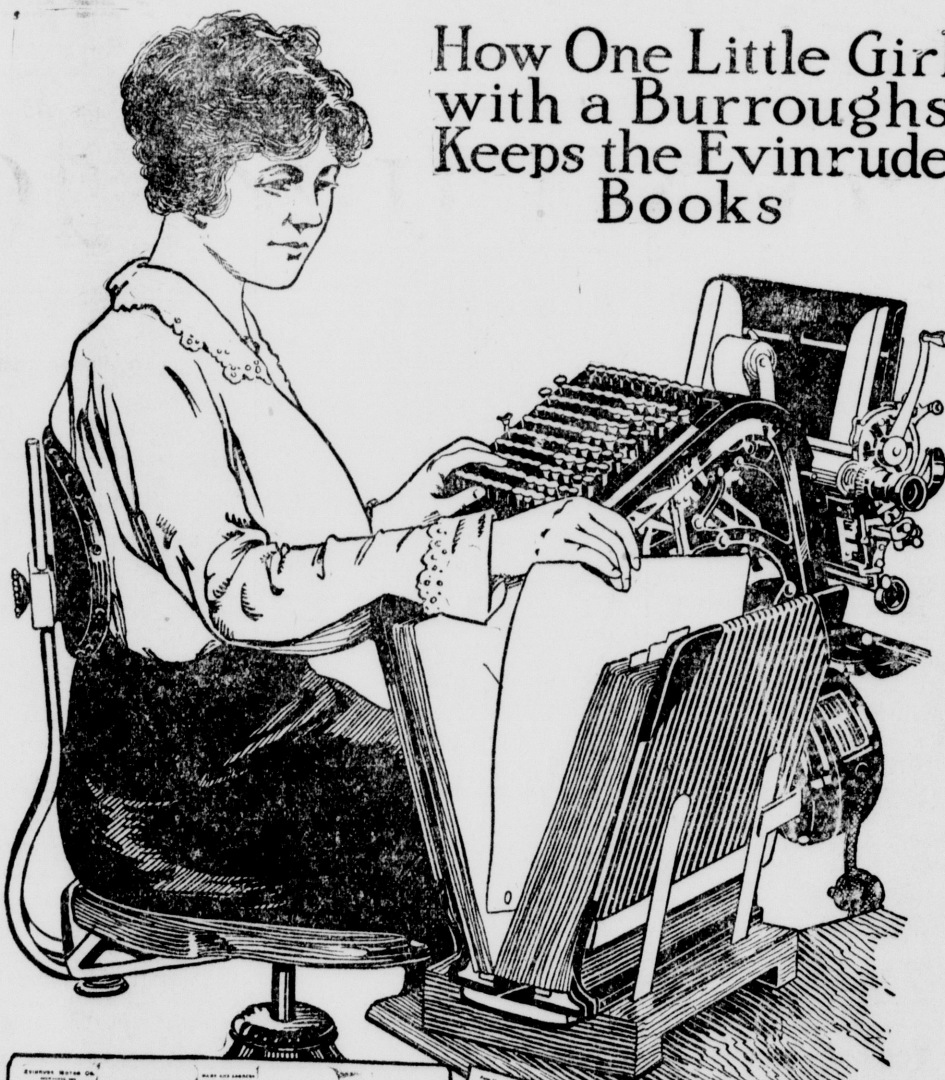

A Pullman conductor of a west-bound train which passed through Gallitzin at 1:08 a. m. reported from Lima, Ohio, that Barber was missing from his train, on which he had been a passenger. No. 23 stops at Gallitzin.

How One Little Girl with a Burroughs Keeps the Evinrude Books

BOOKKEEPING had become a problem for the Evinrude Motor Company. Posting ledgers, taking the trial balance, and getting out statements by hand, took more and more time as the business grew and accounts multiplied.

400 Postings a Day

This was painstaking work and took all the time of two bookkeepers. Still they could have managed—if it hadn't been for that other job which loomed big at the end of the month.

Over 1000 Statements

Even working overtime wouldn't get those statements out on the first of the month. So the work dragged along, often to the tenth. Yet the management knew that early statements get the money.

Something had to be done.

Finding the Way Out

It was a Burroughs Ledger Posting and Statement Machine that solved the problem.

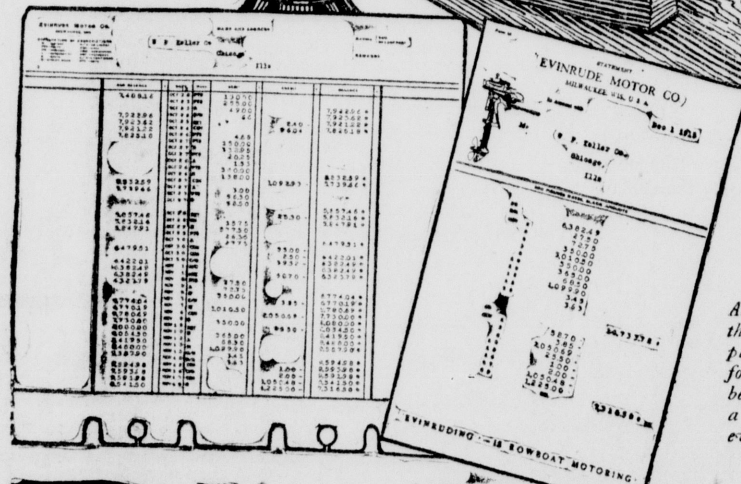

It enables one little girl to do all the work—posting the 400 items each day, getting a new balance on every changed account, getting out all the statements on the first—with time to spare for other work. The Evinrude Company saved its cost the first year.

Old balance, date, memos like PTS for parts, debit, credit, and automatically computed new balance, are quickly entered on the ledger page, and the work is automatically proven as it is done. No special training is necessary to operate the Burroughs.

A Little Girl Can Keep Your Books

This story of the little girl, the Burroughs, and the Evinrude books, is typical of hundreds of other stories. No matter whether you deal in rowboat motors or what, you can save money, insure accuracy, and increase speed by letting the Burroughs help post your books and get out your statements promptly.

Let the Burroughs representative show you, without obligation, the one model of our 98 that will keep your books in the way you want them kept. Your telephone book or your banker will direct you to the nearest of the 170 Burroughs offices. Or, write to the factory. Address, Burroughs, Detroit, Michigan.

At the left are shown the Evinrude ledger page and statement form. Your forms may be different, but there's a Burroughs to meet every requirement.

BASKETBALLERS FORM LEAGUE, BRAND NEW ONE, TOO

A. A. U. Tournament Is No
More; Kicked Out of Southern California Athletics

The A. A. U. basketball tournament is no more. It was kicked out of Southern California athletics Monday as an undesirable. In its place was substituted the A. A. U. Basketball League.

Play in this new league will begin right after the Christmas holidays. Each team will play a game at home and away from home with every other team. Two games will be played by every team each week. But even at that rate it is going to take a month, perhaps two, to run off the tournament. It all depends on the number of teams entered.

Four Classes

There will be four classes in this new league—the 110 to 115 class; the 120 to 125 class, the 140 to 145 class, and the unlimited. It is expected that teams will be entered in the two heaviest classes by the Los Angeles Athletic Club, Orange, Whittier, Glendale, Westlake, Y.M.C.A., Manual Arts, Normal, Whittier Crescents and U. S. C. Practically all of the Los Angeles high schools will be represented in the light ones.

The A. A. U. tournament was abolished because a team had to play too much basketball in one week. The team winning the title had practically to play every night for a week. This was especially hard on Orange and Whittier as they had to travel far for their games. The result was that these two teams usually went stale before the week was half over. It was simply too strenuous.

Better

Then again the A. A. U. tournament was an elimination affair. A team might be better than another team, but have a bad night. Yet it went out just the same. The A. A. U. officials felt that the true merits of the teams could be best learned by a league in which every team played every other twice.

The weight question was made a sort of a sliding affair. Five pounds leeway was given in all classes. This was to avoid the men training down to get under the weight. Last year some of the players trained down to skin and bone to make the weight in certain divisions. The effect of a game on a man in that weakened condition was injurious. The officials hope to avoid this by giving the sliding scale with a five-pound margin. They are going to require all of the players to weigh in before the season starts and demand the right to weigh any of the players at any time during the season without notice.

TOD SLOAN, the famous ex-jockey, who was recently ordered out of England, arrived in New York on Dec. 3, looking as sleek and prosperous as in his palmiest days. The charge on which he was deported was that he was maintaining a gambling house. Sloan declares that it was a frame-up and that an English army officer who owed him a gambling debt and two women who owned the gambling house conspired together to get him into all the trouble that followed.

one week, it will be impossible for him to keep under weight for a month.

Basketball this year is to be a fast affair. The new rules have about doubled the speed of the game. The rule allowing dribbling has practically eliminated overhead passes and it is about twice as hard to guard a man. Before, he could only take one step preparatory to throwing. So the guards clustered around the other men. They have to watch the man with the ball. The dribbling has also resulted in the ball not going outside nearly so much. So time is not taken out for as many throwouts. The result of the rules seems to be more scoring and the giving of the light men a chance against the big mooses.

The committee in charge of basketball for the A. A. U. is Klawans of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, Roy Hallett of Poly High School, and Newton of Orange.

Not Been Overly Good the Last Two Weeks

"A heavy rain right now would knock the feathers out of shooting in the ducklands," said W. K. Robinson, deputy state fish and game commissioner, this morning. Robinson spends most of his time in the lowlands among the gun clubs and along the roads where road hunters abide.

"Yes," continued Robinson, "a heavy rain would put lots of water in the interior, so that the ducks would get away from the lowlands. Hunting the last two or three weeks has not been very good. Most of the ducks that were here three weeks ago have gone."

"What the duck hunters want is a heavy storm up north, one that does not reach down here. That kind of a storm would drive a lot of birds to Southern California. Until such a storm does come along, shooting among the gun clubs is likely to be rather slim."

HIGH PRAISE GIVEN COLE, CADILLAC CARS

A high tribute to the efficiency of the multiple-cylinder car was voiced recently by Reid L. Parker, who said, in the Chicago Tribune:

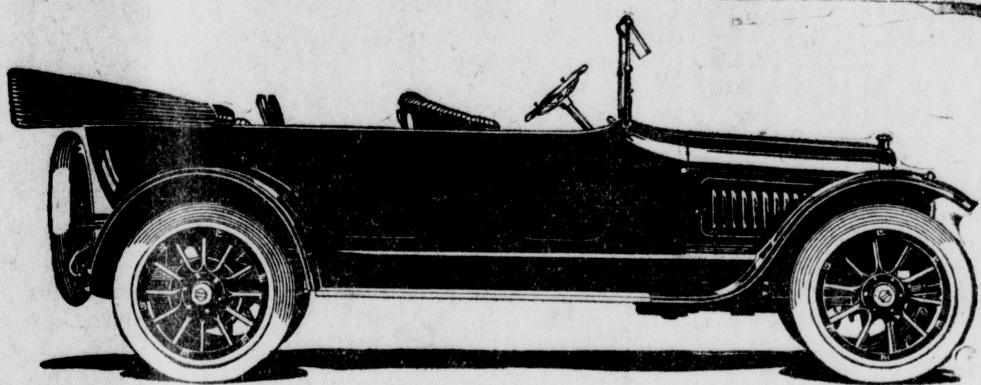

"If there is any doubt resting in the minds of the motor buying public concerning the efficacy of the eight-cylinder motors, it may be removed, because I personally saw two of the multiple-cylinder jobs negotiate mountain roads that two years ago would not have been passable to any kind of a motor car. The cars referred to are a Cole and a Cadillac. There never was a miss in either engine. In fact, both cars showed wonderful ability to run over any kind of roads throughout the trip of the Dixie Highway commissioners."

BUICK OUTPUT TO BE 150,000 AUTOS

The plant of the Buick Motor Company, Flint, Mich., is to be doubled and for 1917 a production of 150,000 Buick cars is contemplated, or double the production scheduled for 1916. A new motor castings foundry two stories, 470x247 feet, with basement, will be put up at once. Additions to the drop forge plant 40x200 feet are under way and further additions will be put up. Half a million dollars will be spent for this purpose and the working force will be gradually increased, but this will not be done as rapidly as desired, because several thousand new houses will have to be erected in Flint to house the men. All other plants making parts and accessories for the Buick and General Motors companies will also be enlarged to increase their output facilities. When the new motor castings foundry is completed the old Michigan motor castings plant will become a part of the plant of the Weston-Mott Company. Three hundred Buick cars are now being built daily.

Better Road Performance

It has been found that the small bore, long stroke Six in the light car of modern design is capable of road performances that are impossible in the big heavy cars even with their great high powered engines.

THE CHANDLER LIGHT WEIGHT SIX with its small bore, long stroke motor, has created astonishment in all the motoring centers of the country by its remarkable performances in high gear on the famous hills from coast to coast. Its quick pick up from three to thirty-five miles per hour on direct drive, its wonderful flexibility—a motor vibrationless at all speeds, marked the advent of the modern type of light Sixes and a new epoch in motor history. It is freely admitted, by those who understand, that six-cylinder cars will entirely displace the Fours and even now the demand for Sixes exceeds the supply.

And what everybody wants is a light weight car, for the increasing cost of gasoline, the heavy expense for tires and up-keep of the big heavy car have created a demand for a car that can be operated at a minimum expense.

Reduction in weight is the greatest improvement recently made in the modern motor car and its serious importance is recognized by all builders. Heavy weight does not necessarily mean strength—unnecessary weight very frequently defeats its own purposes.

THE CHANDLER LIGHT WEIGHT SIX is the literal expression of supreme lightness, grace, power and strength. It is a motor car that gives you a thrill of pride as you take your place at the wheel or seat yourself in the tonneau.

What is the reason for this tremendous growth in Chandler demand? Just ask yourself this question. The answer is obvious when you know the Chandler car.

It's simply because, regardless of price reductions, regardless of new models, there is no other car of such superior character at a similar price.

No other car selling for less than $2000 possesses all these high-grade features of design, construction and equipment found on the Chandler:

Information Regarding the Pasteurization of Milk

What the Most Modern and Sanitary Dairy in Orange County is Doing for the Betterment of Dairy Products

What is to be understood by PASTEURIZATION of milk? That is a very important question just now in view of the new State Dairy Law that will soon go into effect. And another very important question is: WHO IS YOUR MILK MAN? There is no more important question for any one who is the head of a family to answer than that. To an adult the subject of health is a personal matter; to a child it is a condition almost wholly under the control of the parent. As milk good or poor enters very largely into the diet of most children, hence the importance of the question, "WHO IS YOUR MILKMAN?"

On January 1st at least one man who is now supplying milk to numerous homes of our town is to quit and another man takes his place. This same thing has occurred several times during the past year. The writer has during this time "bought out" several routes. When our new driver commenced deliveries there were very few "quits," to begin with. This I attributed to the fact that I had taken the public into my confidence, had tried to explain to them what I was trying to do for the milk supply of our town.

During the past year I have spent much time and money in studying the "milk question." I have invited you to visit the most modern dairy in the county; I have talked in favor of an efficient city milk and dairy inspection. Last July I attended the convention of the National Milkmen held in San Francisco. There I heard the leading milkmen of the country and they all spoke of the need of the most modern methods to insure clean and safe milk. In a word it was Pasteurization.

Last winter Nathan Straus, that noted New York philanthropist, spent much of his time while out here on the coast in creating public sentiment in favor of clean and safe milk. He was asked to address the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce on the subject. A little later he went to Sacramento and appeared before the State Legislature and spoke in favor of rigid state laws regulating and controlling the milk supply of the state. He pleaded for pasteurized milk. The result was that there was a drastic law it is called by some law passed and signed by Governor Johnson that will revolutionize the dairy industry of the State.

In a few months the question, "WHO IS YOUR MILKMAN?" will not be of such importance to you as it is now. Then all of the milk sold will have to be supplied from cows that have passed the tuberculin test and showed no reaction, or will have to be pasteurized. When that day comes all milk will be reasonably safe, I say "reasonably safe." But milk may be taken from tested cows and still be produced under such unsanitary conditions that it is not fit to use. But this same law classifies the milk into three classes, and milk to be used in the home must have such a low bacteria count that it will have to be produced under right conditions.

A few days ago a woman came into the store of the Excelsior Dairy Co., at 304 West Fourth St., and asked what sort of milk we were handling. We told her that all our milk and cream was pasteurized. "All right," she said, "that is just what I want." She had been living in a large city where she had been used to getting pasteurized milk, and was afraid that she would not be able to get the same here. We find that the people who know are now asking for and demanding pasteurized milk. The day is not far distant when all butter will even be made from pasteurized cream.

The question now comes what is meant by pasteurization. In the first place let it be stated that it is not a process to be used with dirty milk. Dirty milk will always be dirty milk. Pasteurization is not a substitute for cleanliness, cleanliness is not a substitute for pasteurization; for both are necessary for good, safe milk.

Prof. M. J. Rosenau, of Harvard University, says: "Pasteurization simply means parboiling. The heat kills the harmful germs that are too often found in milk, such as tuberculosis, typhoid, diphtheria, scarlet fever, sore throat, and the summer complaints of infants." Pasteurization has only one object—to destroy these germs in milk. Pasteurization is the simplest, cheapest, and least objectionable method of rendering infected milk safe.

There can be no more objection to pasteurized milk for the use of adults and children over two years of age than there can be to the broiling of a beef steak.

Pasteurized milk is just as digestible as raw milk.

The correct temperature to heat the milk is 140 degrees for twenty minutes. Higher heat or longer time is unnecessary. Anything less is not effective and gives a false sense of security.

Pasteurization cannot make good milk out of bad milk.

Pasteurization saves lives and prevents sickness.

Pasteurization is simply an acknowledgment that raw milk may be dangerous milk and that heating it is the simplest and most effective way of eliminating these dangers. Pasteurization is the cheapest form of life insurance the consumer can take out.

Pasteurization as done by the Excelsior Dairy Co. is of the most modern method. We have a 1915 model Wizard pasteurizer of 300 gallons capacity. In the first place all of our milk comes from dairies that are regularly inspected by an inspector working under the Los Angeles City Board of Health. We were forced to this for we wanted inspected milk, and the City of Santa Ana has no inspector. This milk as it reaches the plant is poured into the pasteurizer and the heat is turned on. It takes about 20 minutes to bring it up to 140 to 142 degrees temperature. Then the steam is turned off and it is held at this same temperature for 20 minutes. Then it is pumped with a large sanitary milk pump up over the large cooler and ice cold brine within this cooler quickly brings this milk down to a temperature of about 40 degrees. Now it is bottled and capped, and put away in the refrigerator room, where it is held until it comes time for delivery.

We are certainly doing our part to give this City, Orange, Newport and Balboa a good and safe milk.

Let me go a little further right here, and I will say that I firmly believe that the Excelsior Dairy Co., is putting out to its many satisfied patrons and friends the best milk that is sold on the entire Pacific Coast. I have just returned from a trip to San Francisco, Sacramento, Berkeley, Oakland, Stockton and Fresno, and nowhere are they getting for their money what you are getting right here from the EXCELSIOR DAIRY COMPANY.

Most of those places are paying 10 cents per quart for milk that tests from 3.5 to 4.4 per cent of butter fat. Most of the milkmen are now pasteurizing; all are planning to soon begin the process of pasteurization. Here you get milk that tests from 4.8 to 5 per cent butter fat, and it is pasteurized, and clean and safe, and the price is right, 10 cents per quart, and 5 cents per pint. We are in the business to stay. We know that our product is right, and the very best on the market. If you are particular about the quality of your milk we want your patronage.

The milk of the future is to be PASTEURIZED MILK. Why not begin right now, and insure your family by the use of SAFE MILK?

MR. TAFT ASKS SUPPORT FOR PEACE LEAGUE

Letter Urging Sentiment Is Received By President of Local Body

EX-President Taft has written to the president of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, asking him and the other members of his organization to co-operate in an effort to create sentiment among business men in favor of a national plan for world peace, to be worked out through international agreement after peace has been declared in Europe. The same letter has been sent to chambers of commerce all over the country.

Arguing that the recurrence of such a conflict as now rages in Europe ought, if possible, to be prevented, Mr. Taft urges the members of the organization to co-operate in an effort to mould public opinion both in this country and abroad, in favor of a league of the great powers, who shall agree not to go to war in any case, until the question has been passed upon judicially, the nations agreeing also to use their joint military and economic forces against any nation refusing to keep the pact.

Mr. Taft refers particularly to the referendum of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America on the report of that body's special committee on "Economic Results of the War and American Business."

Mr. Taft's request is made at this time in view of the fact that the referendum in question outlines a plan for world peace, almost identical with that contained in the proposals of the League to Enforce Peace, which was organized by Mr. Taft, President A. Lawrence Lowell, of Harvard University, and other men of nationwide prominence at Philadelphia in Independence Hall, last June. Mr. Taft, who is the president of the League, writes as follows:

"The friendly reference made to the platform of the League to Enforce Peace on page four of Referendum No. 11 of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America seems to the officers of the League to create a natural occasion for calling it to your personal attention, and to that of your members.

"At the same time I want to extend a very cordial invitation to you, and through you to the members of your organization, to join the league and to co-operate with it as actively as you are able in the organization that is about to be undertaken in your state.

"The irremediable injury that would result to the whole world in case a way should not be found, at the close of the European conflict, to make war less threatening, and to render it less frequent, has induced a considerable number of leaders in the realms both of statesmanship and of business to combine in an effort to create sentiment in our own and other countries, in favor of the proposals that were put forward at the Philadelphia conference.

"The obvious and urgent need that led the committee of the Chamber to draw up its admirable report, and the board of directors to authorize its submission, is an eloquent argument in favor of a combined effort to do all which human ingenuity and devotion can, to prevent the recurrence of such a catastrophe as the world is now experiencing."

The proposals of the League to Enforce Peace, referred to in Mr. Taft's communication, which were adopted at the Independence Hall meeting are:

That the United States join a league of nations, who shall agree to the following:

1. The establishment of an international tribunal or world court, which shall pass on all justiciable questions arising between nations.

2. The establishment of an international tribunal to be known as a council of conciliation which shall pass on all non-justiciable questions which cannot be settled in accordance with the principles of law and equity.

3. The signatory powers to use forthwith their joint economic and military forces against any nation which has joined the league, but which goes to war, or begins acts of hostility against another of the signatories, without first submitting its quarrel to a court or board of arbitrators, as provided in sections one and two.

4. The adoption of a code of international law through a series of international conferences.

The Independence Hall proposals contain no provision for enforcing the verdict of the arbitrators. Under the proposed plan any nation that is dissatisfied with the decree may go to war without fear of adverse action on the part of the league.

SPEEDING AT RIVERSIDE IS TO BE CURBED

Motorists are advised that Riverside is soon to have a motorcycle speed cop whose duty will be to prevent speeding on the Riverside streets.

The Riverside chief of police was authorized to appoint a speed officer for a period of one month. If his services are satisfactory and it is apparent that there is a need for such an officer, it is likely that he will be continued indefinitely.

The official selected will use his own machine and will have authority to make arrests for speeding anywhere in the city limits of Riverside.

The Riverside ordinance provides that machines may park against the curb diagonally at an angle of not more than forty-five degrees on the following streets: Main, between Sixth and Tenth; Seventh, between Orange and Market; Eighth, between Orange and Market.

It also regulates speed limits as follows: Fifteen miles an hour in the business district except at street intersections where it shall be twelve miles an hour; twenty miles an hour in the closely built up districts of the city; twenty-five miles an hour outside of the closely built up districts; fifteen miles an hour passing school property on school days.

Violation of the provisions of the ordinance carry a penalty of $100 fine and 30 days in jail for the first offense, 90 days for the second offense, and six months for the third offense.

PAJAMA-CLAD HARVARD MAN QUILTS FAST TRAIN

ALTOONA, Pa.—Unable to recall recent happenings, Louis E. Barber, a Harvard senior, walked into the Pennsylvania railroad telegraph tower at Gallitzin at 1:25 the other morning, clad only in his pajamas, an overcoat and shoes. Blood trickled from a cut over his right eye. He was dazed.

The company surgeon was summoned and found that Barber could not recall how he came to be in Gallitzin. He said he was a son of Edward Barber, a merchant at Reno, Nevada. He consented to come to Altoona hospital, where he became violent.

How One Little Girl Keeps the Evinrude Books

BOOKKEEPING had become a problem for the Evinrude Motor Company. Posting ledgers, taking the trial balance, and getting out statements by hand, took more and more time as the business grew and accounts multiplied.

400 Postings a Day

This was painstaking work and took all the time of two bookkeepers. Still they could have managed—if it hadn't been for that other job which loomed big at the end of the month.

Over 1000 Statements

Even working overtime wouldn't get those statements out on the first of the month. So the work dragged along, often to the teeth. Yet the management knew that early statements get the money.

Something had to be done.

Finding the Way Out

It was a Burroughs Ledger Posting and Statement Machine that solved the problem.

It enables one little girl to do all the work—posting the 400 items each day, getting a new balance on every changed account, getting out all the statements on the first—with time to spare for other work. The Evinrude Company saved its cost the first year.

Old balance, date, memos like PTS for parts, debit, credit, and automatically computed new balance, are quickly entered on the ledger page, and the work is automatically proven as it is done. No special training is necessary to operate the Burroughs.

A Little Girl Can Keep Your Books

This story of the little girl, the Burroughs, and the Evinrude books, is typical of hundreds of other stories. No matter whether you deal in rowboat motors or what, you can save money, insure accuracy, and increase speed by letting the Burroughs help post your books and get out your statements promptly.

Let the Burroughs representative show you, without obligation, the one model of our 98 that will keep your books in the way you want them kept. Your telephone book or your banker will direct you to the nearest of the 170 Burroughs offices. Or, write to the factory. Address, Burroughs, Detroit, Michigan.

BASKETBALLERS FORM LEAGUE. BRAND NEW ONE, TOO

A. A. U. Tournament Is No
More; Kicked Out of Southern California Athletics

The A. A. U. basketball tournament is no more. It was kicked out of Southern California athletics Monday as an undesirable. In its place was substituted the A. A. U. Basketball League.

Play in this new league will begin right after the Christmas holidays. Each team will play a game at home and away from home with every other team. Two games will be played by every team each week. But even at that rate it is going to take a month, perhaps two, to run off the tournament. It all depends on the number of teams entered.

Four Classes

There will be four classes in this new league—the 110 to 115 class; the 120 to 125 class, the 140 to 145 class, and the unlimited. It is expected that teams will be entered in the two heaviest classes by the Los Angeles Athletic Club, Orange, Whittier, Glendale, Westlake, Y.M.C.A., Manual Arts, Normal, Whittier Crescents and U. S. C. Practically all of the Los Angeles high schools will be represented in the light ones.

The A. A. U. tournament was abolished because a team had to play too much basketball in one week. The team winning the title had practically to play every night for a week. This was especially hard on Orange and Whittier as they had to travel far for their games. The result was that these two teams usually went stale before the week was half over. It was simply too strenuous.

Better

Then again the A. A. U. tournament was an elimination affair. A team might be better than another team, but have a bad night. Yet it went out just the same. The A. A. U. officials felt that the true merits of the teams could be best learned by a league in which every team played every other twice.

The weight question was made a sort of a sliding affair. Five pounds leeway was given in all classes. This was to avoid the men training down to get under the weight. Last year some of the players trained down to skin and bone to make the weight in certain divisions. The effect of a game on a man in that weakened condition was injurious. The officials hope to avoid this by giving the sliding scale with a five-pound margin. They are going to require all of the players to weigh in before the season starts and demand the right to weigh any of the players at any time during the season without notice.

While a man might train down for

TOD SLOAN, the famous ex-jockey, who was recently ordered out of England, arrived in New York on Dec. 3, looking as sleek and prosperous as in his palmy days. The charge on which he was deported was that he was maintaining a gambling house. Sloan declares that it was a frame-up and that an English army officer who owed him a gambling debt and two women who owned the gambling house conspired together to get him into all the trouble that followed.

one week, it will be impossible for him to keep under weight for a month.

Basketball this year is to be a fast affair. The new rules have about doubled the speed of the game. The rule allowing dribbling has practically eliminated overhead passes and it is about twice as hard to guard a man. Before, he could only take one step preparatory to throwing. So the guards clustered around the other men. They have to watch the man with the ball. The dribbling has also resulted in the ball not going outside nearly so much. So time is not taken out for as many throwouts. The result of the rules seems to be more scoring and the giving of the light men a chance against the big mooses.

The committee in charge of basketball for the A. A. U. is Klawans of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, Roy Hallett of Poly High School, and Newton of Orange.

NEED A STORM IN NORTH FOR DUCK SUPPLY

Shooting In the Lowlands Has Not Been Overly Good the
Last Two Weeks

"A heavy rain right now would knock the feathers out of shooting in the ducklands," said W. K. Robinson, deputy state fish and game commissioner, this morning. Robinson spends most of his time in the lowlands among the gun clubs and along the roads where road hunters abide.

"Yes," continued Robinson, "a heavy rain would put lots of water in the interior, so that the ducks would get away from the lowlands. Hunting the last two or three weeks has not been very good. Most of the ducks that were here three weeks ago have gone."

"What the duck hunters want is a heavy storm up north, one that does not reach down here. That kind of a storm would drive a lot of birds to Southern California. Until such a storm does come along, shooting among the gun clubs is likely to be rather slim."

BUICK OUTPUT TO BE 150,000 AUTOS

The plant of the Buick Motor Company, Flint, Mich., is to be doubled and for 1917 a production of 150,000 Buick cars is contemplated, or double the production scheduled for 1916. A new motor castings foundry two stories, 470x247 feet, with basement, will be put up at once. Additions to the drop forge plant 40x200 feet are under way and further additions will be put up. Half a million dollars will be spent for this purpose and the working force will be gradually increased, but this will not be done as rapidly as desired, because several thousand new houses will have to be erected in Flint to house the men. All other plants making parts and accessories for the Buick and General Motors companies will also be enlarged to increase their output facilities. When the new motor castings foundry is completed the old Michigan motor castings plant will become a part of the plant of the Weston-Mott Company. Three hundred Buick cars are now being built daily.

IF RAYS ARE DEFLECTED TO THE GROUND IN 75 FEET DIMMERS NOT NEEDED, CONSTRUCTION ON LAW

Motorists at this time are vitally interested in the new provisions of the state motor vehicle act which goes into effect on December 31, at midnight.

With only 15 days intervening between the present time and the time of the new act becoming effective, motorists are scanning carefully the digests of the law published recently in book form by the legal department of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

One of the more important of the new provisions is the requirement of dimmers or deflected headlights. The problem of arranging the lights so as to conform with the law will confront every automobile owner in the state of California, and the Automobile Club has issued, through its legal department, definite and specific constructions along this line.

It is pointed out by the club's attorneys that the new law gives the automobile owner the option of equipping his lights with dimmers so as to permanently "prevent any glare therefrom which might interfere with the convenience or safety of the use of the highway," or to so arrange the lights that the center rays shall strike the ground at a distance not to exceed 75 feet in front of the car.

In short, the section reads in the alternative. It is not absolutely necessary to use a dimming device if the light rays are directed to the ground within 75 feet of the front of the car. As a rule the automobile owner will probably find it more satisfactory to use dimmers than to adopt the other method, although the determination of this question depends largely on the size and volume of the lights used.

Careful illustration of some of the more important provisions of the new law have been made by Clarence A. English, Los Angeles distributor of King "Elights" in the latest King car. Motorists are no longer allowed to let the license plates become covered with mud or grease so that the correct numbers cannot be distinguished.

Rules are also given for conduct while driving on highways throughout the state, and these will be rigidly enforced.

BROWN-WASHINGTON TEAMS DOPED AT ABOUT FIFTY-FIFTY

PASADENA, Dec. 16.—Contracts have been signed today for the football classic of the Pacific Coast to be staged the afternoon of the twenty-seventh annual Tournament of Roses, next New Year's day.

Brown University will clash with Washington State University, far-west champions. The Brown squad will make the longest trip ever made by a team for a single game, the distance from Providence to this city being 3,000 miles. They will come west with only one defeat, that being the season with Harvard when they scored seven against Old Red thirteen.

Dopesters figure the teams about even for the New Year's battle. So great is the interest in the event that 10,000 additional grand stand seats will be placed in Tournament Park. The game will follow the annual Tournament of Roses, which will be more elaborate than ever before. More than a million cut flowers will be used in decorating the hundreds of floats. A battle royal, with flowers for ammunition, will be waged at the conclusion of the game and the visiting team will be guests of honor at the Tournament ball, the most elaborate function of the year in Southern California.

OCCIDENTAL COLLEGE GLEE BOYS TO SING FOR ORANGE ATHLETES

ORANGE, Dec. 16.—The Occidental Glee Club, this year declared to be the leading college musical organization in the South, will give a concert at Campbell's hall, Orange, on Thursday evening of this week.

The Occidental boys have been here frequently in other years, and have always proved to be a strong attraction. College Glee clubs seem to be particularly popular here and the Occidental club has always shared in that preference.

The concert will be under the auspices of the Orange Athletic Club and will be a popular priced entertainment. All seats will be 35 cents and there will be no reservations. The complete program of the concert will be announced before Thursday evening.

CANADA ORGANIZES A DEALERS' ASSOCIATION

At a meeting of the motor car and accessory dealers of the eastern townships of Canada, held recently at Sherbrooke, Quebec, to consider matters of mutual business interests, it was decided to organize an association similar to the trade associations which have been organized in other sections of Canada and the United States. It is expected that every motor car and accessory dealer in the eastern townships will join this association, which will be known as Eastern Townships Trade Association.

HALF MILLION VOTED TO ENLARGE PERMANENT HIGHWAY SYSTEM WHICH RADIATES FROM RE-BORN CITY OF DAYTON

SURVEYOR SMITH LAYING THE FIRST BRICK IN THE CINCINNATI-DAYTON ROAD.

A one mill levy for permanent road building has been voted by Montgomery county electors, following a two-year construction program in which twenty-five miles of brick highways have been built. This vote insures $250,000 a year for two years, which will be augmented by state aid and by assessments upon specially benefited lands.

Dayton's highway program is part of the general awakening that followed the disastrous flood of 1913. With a tremendous task of rebuilding before it, ordinary political considerations were thrown to the winds, a city manager installed and a sentiment for thoroughness in public work engendered which has brought Dayton to the very front of American cities of its size.

Credit for interpreting this spirit in terms of road improvement is given County Engineer Victor C.

Smith and Commissioner Charles F. Brenner. They figured it would be good economy on the long run to build highways of the most substantial character. Six brick highways now radiate in every direction from the city limits.

Dayton is located at the intersection of two projected national highways, the rebuilt National Pike and the Dixie highway, both of which are to be paved their entire length in Montgomery county.

Migration of Game Birds

By HAROLD C. BRYANT

Game Expert, Fish and Game Commission.

Perhaps the problem most absorbing to students of bird life is the cause underlying the migration of birds. Much data is at hand as to how and where birds migrate, but a solution of the greater problem of "why" seems as far away as ever. Even though the solution of this greater problem is so elusive, its ultimate solution will be the result of consistent study of kinds and types of bird migration. It is to this knowable side of the problem rather than to the unknowable ultimate cause of migration that your attention is called.

Migration is usually of two kinds—either the northward and southward migration from breeding grounds to winter quarters and return, or a vertical migration from higher altitude to lower and vice versa. Investigations of the former type are of most interest. The distance traversed during the annual migration in some instances is very great, thousands of miles being covered in a few days. Migrants have been observed from 1200 to 5400 feet above the earth, and some of them travel at a rate of forty miles an hour. A few general laws have been formulated regarding migration, as follows:

1—Species which go farthest north in summer go farthest south in winter.

2—Species which migrate at night feed in or near the shelter of trees, bushes or grass and those which migrate chiefly by day habitually feed in open, exposed situations.

3—Insect eating birds travel much farther than seed eaters. Here in California we have three types of migrant birds. Certain ones appear within our borders in the fall and spend the winter here. All of these birds breed much farther to the north, most of them in Canada, British Columbia, Alaska and Yukon territory. Another group of birds arrive here in the spring, rear their young and spend the summer here. Practically all of these birds spend the winter much farther south. Still another group are mere transients, stopping on their way south or again on their way north. Most of the latter are migrants from the north which are either traveling south to their winter range or north into their breeding grounds.

Most of our best game birds belong to the category of northern migrants. The ducks, with the exception of certain permanently resident species like the mallard, pintail and green winged teal, which appear in such great numbers in California during the winter season, are winter transients which have come south from their breeding grounds in the far north. Even those species which are permanently resident here are augmented in numbers by northern migrants. Practically all of the geese are also northern breeders.

The routes by which ducks and geese enter the state are apparently two. Some appear to travel directly south along our coast or enter the state via the Shasta region; others apparently enter the state from the Great Basin by crossing the high Sierras of Central California. The latter route is commonly followed by geese, for great flocks of both Canada geese and snow geese have been seen crossing the highest peaks of the central Sierras. These birds probably come from breeding grounds situated in central Canada. Evidence that certain ducks may also enter the state by this same route is brought forth by the fact that a certain pintail duck tagged by a government official on the Great Salt Lake, Utah, September 16, 1914, was killed near Hornon, Fresno county, California on January 24, 1915. The salt water ducks, such as the bluebill and canvasback, follow more closely the coast line in their southward migrations.

The shore birds are of particular interest because they are noted for their long migrations. Many of the shore birds which nest in Alaska and Yukon territory move southward in the fall into Central and South America. Most of these birds follow the coast line and are to be seen most abundantly feeding along the beaches and sand bars. Some of these birds spend the whole winter within our state, but most of them are simply transients. One good example belonging to the latter category is the knot, or robin snipe, a remarkable bird, which usually appears in considerable numbers on the beaches during its southward and northward migrations. These birds are seldom seen within our borders except during the spring and fall months. The knot is also of peculiar interest, because until within the last two or three years no one had been able to discover the nest of this shore bird which is a true winter migrant.

California is fortunate in being occasionally visited also by that most noted of all shore birds, the golden plover. It has been found that this bird makes a round trip of 16,000 miles every year. From its breeding grounds in eastern Alaska it travels eastward across the continent to Nova Scotia, then southward across the Atlantic ocean to Brazil, and spends the winter in the Argentine Republic. On its return it travels across South America, crosses the Yucatan peninsula and the Gulf of Mexico and follows up the Mississippi Valley and across Canada to its breeding grounds.

Few of our well known game birds belong to the category of summer transients, for southern migrants are not present during the hunting season. The cinnamon teal, which appears in numbers in this state in April and May, and while his one of the commonest nesting ducks in the state, is one of the best examples of a bird belonging to this group. During the winter season cinnamon teal are very seldom seen, and many sportsmen are absolutely unfamiliar with this species, although they may hunt each year. A summer migrant which has habits much like the true shore birds is the white faced glossy ibis. This large and handsome bird nests commonly in the tule marshes of southern and central California. The winter season is spent in Mexico. The avocet and black necked stilt also belong to this summer visitant category.

Much still remains to be learned of bird migration in California. Compared with other states, there have been few observers who have kept careful records as to the dates of arrival and departure of the different species. It will be necessary for more people to take an active interest in this subject and to perform many experiments by banding breeding birds before definite information will be at hand. The appearance of unusual times should always be reported to the California Fish and Game Commission or to some competent ornithologist.

"Why I Bought a Cole 8"

Cole Motor Company,
Los Angeles.
Gentlemen:

I bought a Cole 8 because I found it had the most accessible eight cylinder motor on the market; and other units equally accessible. It also gave the easiest riding and the most comfort to my family.

Have driven my car 11,000 miles and it has been very economical and extremely satisfactory in every respect.

Yours very truly,

FORD'S SON HEADS TWO HUGE CONCERNS

DETROIT, Dec. 16.—A young man of 22 is at the head of two motor car manufacturing concerns, whose total business during the 1915 fiscal year aggregated over $100,000,000. This young man is Edsel B. Ford, son of Henry Ford. Edsel has been given full power of attorney by his father and during the latter's absence in Europe, which will be from five to six weeks, he will be the president of the Ford Motor Car Company, Detroit, the Ford Motor Company, Limited, of Canada, and the new firm, Henry Ford & Son, Dearborn, Mich., which is to build the tractors. An interesting fact in connection with the Dearborn plant being built is that the site is the bed of a small lake, which was drained for the factory location.

URGES WAR TO DEATH ON CHRONIC SPEEDERS

In a communication to Chief of Police Young, of St. Louis, Mo., the circuit attorney of St. Louis called attention to a state law which provides imprisonment for chronic violators of the speed laws and urged the chief to help the attorney's office obtain the maximum sentence for persistent speeders. The police, he pointed out, can do this by procuring evidence of the previous charges against speeders arrested more than once. The section of the state law mentioned by the attorney provides a fine of from $25 to $100 for first offenses and $50 to $500 for second offenses.

RELIGIOUS SECT NOW PERMITS MOTOR CARS

After agitation of several years, the sect of German Baptists known as the Amish, very numerous in Central Illinois, have permitted their members to own motor cars. Although this permission was granted at the last national conference, less than a year ago, the members of the denomination have been quick to take advantage of it. One of the largest churches of the Amish in Illinois is located in Morton. The trustees have completed the construction of four rows of stalls to shelter the cars during church services. Ninety cars now can be accommodated, and it is expected that next year another row will be necessary.

GRAPHITE FOR MOTOR
Many motor car owners believe that graphite has its application only as a lubricant for gears, joints, etc., and not for the motor. Graphite is one of the best lubricants obtainable and can be used in the motor crankcase in flake form in conjunction with the regular lubricating oil. There are some forms of lubricants which employ graphite in peculiar combination with oils, and these often are excellent for the motor because the graphite content tends to fill the minute depressions in the metal.

'SPOTTED'
PARIS.—A British officer, entering a Paris cafe, "spotted" a German he had known at Bonn University, dressed in a French officer's uniform. The latter was soon "grabbed."

'SHOOTING' DISTURBED FISHING, WAS GAVY'S LACONIC COMMENT

Laguna Life: When a man so conducts his bat that the whirling pill has the cover pulled and the insides badly mused up every so often, he justly deserves what praise the grouch nursing gentleman of the press can give him.

Gavvy Cravath has so conducted himself, as any out-fighter in the National League, who has chased one of Gavvy's universal connections will readily admit. And that is why a Scripps-McKee man came down a few days ago and insisted on "shooting" him in all sorts of positions. Gavvy says it wasn't painful, but that it disturbed the fishing—which is more important.

POWERPLUS INDIANS SUCCEED IN L. A.

"The first division of Powerplus Indians delivered to the Los Angeles police made a very creditable showing and have been accepted by the city, with the felicitations of the officials conducting the test," says a letter received here by Armin F. Herold, local Indian agent, from the Los Angeles distributors.

"These machines are required to make seventy miles per hour within thirty days. However, we took six spring frame three-speed machines from the first carload and tested them on the San Fernando road December 5. Equipped with A.B.C. generators, head lamps, tail lights, klaxons, speedometers, with the regular muffler cut out, they were just out of their crates, new and unlinbered, and turned from 71 to 74 miles per hour by stop watch on a measured course," the letter states.

TO REMEDY BRAKE DRAGS
Many cars are fitted with rear wheel metal emergency brake bands and quite often the bands rub against the wheel drums and cause a characteristic scraping sound. The scraping not only is annoying, but it wears the brake band and consumes power. To cure the drag remove the wheel and examine the band. It will be found that there is a shiny spot at the point of friction. Strike the band a blow on this spot, using a lead or fiber hammer. The blow should not be too severe, but just enough to spring the band slightly. Replace the wheel and spin it upon its axle, listening for the scraping sound. If it still is present examine the band a second time for a shiny spot and repeat the operation as before. By doing this three or four times the band can be made to assume the proper shape so it will not strike the wheel drum.

STRANGE SHORT CIRCUIT
Recently an owner found that every time the ignition switch was thrown to battery side the horn would blow, even though the horn which was untouched. The horn wires were shorting the battery.

SPEEDING BRINGS A FINE OF $500

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 16.—The police and court campaign against speeders and careless drivers reached a climax recently when one police judge fined Wallace M. Allison, a 19-year-old service car driver, $500 for speeding and another jurist fined Edwin Bolles $250 for running down and injuring a passenger who had just alighted from a street car.

About the same time, a warrant, charging violation of the state law against careless driving, was issued against John Hagen, another service car driver, who, after being arrested for speeding suddenly threw all the power he had into his machine and escaped from the speed cops after a long and wild chase through the city's streets.

The policemen in this case were using the Ford runabouts which recently replaced motorcycles on the St. Louis speeders' squad.

CAUSE OF MAGNETO FAILURE
A common cause of poor magneto action is due to dirt on the interrupter points. When the points are suspected of being dirty a drop or two of kerosene will soon cut the dirt and cause the points to operate efficiently.

HISTORY MAKING
In the Civil war, Newport News was farmland and troops camped there. Off its shores the Merrimac and Monitor fought. Years afterward an industrial city with a great ship yard arose. Here were built some of the naval monsters that developed from the lessons taught by the Monitor and Merrimac. Here the biggest of them all—the new Pennsylvania—was made. And to this yard hastened the Prinz Eitel. History is always in the making, and it has a strange way of picking out its places.—Philadelphia Ledger.

ONTARIO APPERSON MAN DOES STUNT

Mark Lacy, sales manager of the automobile department of Waffle & West, is one of the many representatives of the Apperson who are proud of the fine demonstration made by the Ontario agent last week. An Ontario correspondent reports the "stunt" as follows:

For years motorists in the vicinity of Ontario and Uplands had been saying it never could be done—that the automobile was not built that could carry a capacity load over Dawson's Hill on high gear. However, B. J. Caldwell, the Apperson dealer in this territory is now giving all doubting Thomases the laugh.

Dawson's Hill is at the head of Euclid avenue, Uplands, on the way to Camp Baldy. To dealers demonstrating their cars here, it means the same as Clifford street or Quintero, in Los Angeles, or the Skyland run in San Bernardino. Until the triumph of the Apperson eight there never had been a car go over in high gear with anyone in it beside the driver. And dealers have been trying it ever since the advent of the six-cylinder and high-powered cars of all kinds.

Caldwell tried it out alone and realizing the car's unusual hill climbing ability, he invited a friend to ride with him. This being so easy, he came back to town and recruited two more. There seemed no difference in the speed on the hill and then those in on the deal decided to startle the natives.

They hunted up everybody who laid claims to having a great hill-climbing car and told them the Apperson Eight could take seven people over Dawson's Hill on high gear. The town was full of skeptics and it was easy for the wise ones to make up a neat little "pot." Seven men were selected for passengers who averaged 170 pounds in weight and the party of spectators went out to see the finish. The Apperson made good in a hurry and the society columns of the local papers have been full ever since telling about the dinner parties at which Caldwell and the three wise men were guests of honor.

STAGE FAVORITE GOES INTO MOVIES

Virginia Foltz, one of the stage idols of a few seasons ago, daughter of Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz, the Los Angeles attorney, and now a prominent figure in the Los Angeles smart set, has been coaxed out of her retirement by the lure of the films and will be seen in Pallas-Paramount Pictures. She makes her first appearance in "The Gentleman from Indiana" in support of Dustin Farnum.

Virginia Foltz, prior to her marriage to a well-known realty man of California was known from coast to coast for her Pepita in "Mme. Sherry," a

A Prominent Young Society Girl of Los Angeles who has become a Motion Picture Actress, part she played for three seasons. Prior to that she toured South America at the head of "The Merry Widow," and it is amusing to hear her tell of the week in Rio Janeiro when the Lehar classic was being played simultaneously in Portuguese, Spanish, German and English, and the Sonatas of the other three organizations which weighed over 200 pounds, which placed quite a burden on their respective Danites.

Miss Foltz is a native daughter of California. Her voice attracted early attention and after studying at Los Angeles College, a favorite institution with the fashionable families in the early days, but since discontinued, she attended the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston, which she followed with three years' study in Florence, Paris and other musical centers on the continent.

She was one of the beauties with the famous Weber & Fields Company when that remarkable organization was at the zenith of its popularity, and figure prominently in "The Wizard of Oz," "Babes in Toyland" and other light operas.

HEAVY OIL FOR WORN MOTORS
When a motor has been in use for a reasonably long time, so that the pistons do not fit the cylinders as closely as before, it is advisable to use a heavier grade of oil so a little of the clearance will be taken up. In racing motors the piston-to-cylinder clearance is sometimes much more than twice that used in ordinary practice, so that racers must use a heavy oil. They employ high viscosity lubricants such as castor oil or mixtures of castor and a mineral oil.

FINDING POSITIVE WIRE
When charging terminals are not marked X or — to indicate the positive and negatives sides, the following method may be used to determine the polarity. Attach both sides of the circuit to small lead plate and place these plates into a tumbler almost filled with battery electrolyte. Turn on the current and after three minutes remove the plates. The one which appears brown in color is attached to the positive side.

The Cadillac "8" Owners Express Appreciation

LADY FINDS IT EASY OF OPERATION

H. H. Kelly, City.

Dear Sir: I take great pleasure in attesting to a few of the merits of the Cadillac car.

My first acquaintance was with the 1914 four-cylinder. This is a perfectly reliable car, although not in the same class with the 1915 eight-cylinder.

The Cadillac Eight is easy to operate, the starting and stopping mechanism being, to my mind, absolutely perfect.

As to ease, it rides like a Pullman coach. As all motorists are fully aware, the Cadillac, in keeping with all high power cars, require more gasoline to operate than the lower priced cars, but this is compensated in the reliability of the car.

The Cadillac Eight is also a good hill climber.

The Cadillac Eight is the car!

Very truly yours,

MRS. DELL ANDRE.

SATISFIED WITH CADILLAC 8

SANTA ANA, Dec. 14, '15.

Mr. H. H. Kelly, Cadillac Garage.

Dear Sir: Here is my opinion of the two Cadillac Eights I purchased of you this season. The 1915, bought in May ran 8000 miles, 5000 in two months; made all sorts of trips, climbed mountains, forded streams, went to Santa Barbara and back to Santa Ana in a day; went through the novitiate of five amateur drivers of one family and it never had a mishap.

In October I bought a 1916 for its roomier seats, greater power and the extra embellishments which add to the pleasure of driving. This car has gone nearly 2000 miles and gives the same sort of service that the first did.

In a word, it is entirely satisfactory.

D. E. PRALL,

Treasurer Santa Ana Wholesale Grocery Co.

9000 MILES—REPAIR BILL $1.90

SANTA ANA, Dec. 1, '15.

Mr. H. H. Kelly, City.

Dear Sir: The Eight Cylinder Cadillac that I purchased of you last March has more than fulfilled my expectations of any motor car. I have been driving now for more than ten years and it does seem to me that the Cadillac Eight is near perfection. In the 9000 miles that I have driven the car over varying road conditions—San Francisco by Valley Route and Coast Route; to Big Bear Valley and climbing to an altitude of 8200 feet without putting any water in the radiator, with the Motometer showing that the motor had only reached its highest efficiency. I am now able to drive twice the distance I formerly did in a day without being tired, the car is so easy to control and holds the road so well.

I have driven this distance with a repair expense of $1.90—two light bulbs, one grease cup and one spark plug.

I take pleasure in recommending this car to any one who wants to pay a fair price for a car and get every dollar's worth.

Yours truly,

ARTHUR H. LYON.

BANKER RECOMMENDS CADILLAC 8

SANTA ANA, Dec. 14, '15.

H. H. Kelly, City.

Dear Sir: I purchased my Cadillac Eight from you the latter part of January, 1915. I have run the same almost 1100 miles. The machine has given me entire satisfaction and is as noiseless today as it was the day I purchased it.

I can cheerfully recommend the Cadillac Eight to any one desiring a first class machine.

Very truly yours,

A. J. CROOKSHANK,

SANTA ANA, Dec. 13, '15.

(By WALTER HALL.)

The task of choosing an all-Southern high school eleven is a difficult task for one who has not seen all the games. It becomes nothing more or less than a joke when it is undertaken by one who has only seen a small number of the teams play.

In trying to pick the all-Southern eleven the writer is limited to the teams he has seen in action and to information gathered from other persons. Knowing nothing of the clubs belt teams, they will be left out of this consideration, although they undoubtedly have some men on the eleven.

To proceed with the "annual joke" or "farce," whichever you may wish to call it, let us begin with the center position.

There are three centers who deserve much credit for the showing made by their teams. They are Salyers of San Diego, Stewart of Santa Ana and Horrell of Pasadena. All three are strong offensive and defensive players, the advantage lying with Horrell of Pasadena, probably more because of the backs behind him than for any other reason. This gave him a better chance to star. Although he was outplayed a little by Stewart on the defensive and Salyers on the offensive, he would probably average up better on both. Had Stewart not been captain of his team and could he have put all his attention to his own playing he would have landed first.

The guard positions are hard ones to fill from the ranks of those who played those positions. However, there is one who easily ranks first and that is "Cupie" Sproul of Santa Ana. He played a very strong game at all times, nearly always getting his man and a secondary defense man as well. He is the only M. S. player who has done this consistently. The other guard position is given to Salyers, the San Diego center, on his ability to block, open holes and break up plays before they get started.

The hardest tackle to buck against in the south is probably De Condres of Long Beach. He is a steady player, good in all departments of the game. The other tackle berth I would give to Irvine of Santa Ana, who with DeCondres would make the strongest possible pair of defense tackles the game here has seen for many years. Irvine never fails to open a hole for his backs. His place kicking has been below par this year, but he is the strongest man in the South in the kick-off, not even excepting the college players. He would handle that job on the all-Southern. He and De Condres are also good ground gainers. Other tackles who come near landing a position are Willard of Long Beach, Beam of Whittier, More and McConahey of Pasadena, their chances being in the order named.

The ends are DeHuff of Pasadena and Plavan of Santa Ana. Both are strong in breaking up plays. DeHuff is the stronger at spilling runs and line bucks, while Plavan stars where speed counts in upsetting open plays and forward passes. Both are hard tackles. Plavan is the fastest end in the league in covering punts and handling the forward pass, while DeHuff is the best on general defensive work and in opening holes in the line.

The quarter position seems to be between Galloway of Manual, Trago of Santa Ana and Haney of Los Angeles Polytechnic. Galloway was out of the game most of the season on account of an injured shoulder, this destroying his chances. Trago showed up strong in head work and carrying the call, but was very slow in calling signals in the last games of the season. His goal kicking was good and his passing very good at times. Haney of Polytechnic is a very steady, speedy player. He handled his team well and is Conn's nearest rival in open field work and returning punts. He seems to be the logical man for the place. He would do the punting for the team.

McClain of Santa Ana and Gard of Pasadena are the only possibilities for full back. McClain would have been a strong choice had he not become ineligible on account of the age limit. He was a great line smasher, the strongest defensive full in the league and an adept at intercepting the forward pass. His becoming ineligible leaves Gard the only good full back left. He played half, but was used as a line smasher. He was a wonderful ground gainer and strong defensive man, as well as a good punter.

The right half position is unquestionably the property of "Tuffy" Conn of Pasadena, while the left half position goes to Beverly Anderson of Long Beach. These two have done great work for their teams this year. Both have been relied upon to make most of their teams gains. Both Conn and Anderson are marvels at open field work. Conn is the class of the league when it comes to field goals. He scored on nearly every occasion he had by means of his accurate drop kicking. Anderson's drop kicking, though good in practice, was weak in the games. Anderson excels Conn in bucking the line. Lamport of Manual Arts is a strong half, but not quite up to the standard set by Conn and Anderson.

With a man like Horrell at center supported by guards who know the game as Sproul and Salyers know and play it, the center of the line would be a powerful combination. These flanked by two such tackles as Irvine and DeCondres, supported by DeHuff and Plavan at ends would make a line that any college would like to boast of when we put with this line a back field with the speed, fight and generalship of Haney, Gard, Conn and Anderson we have a team that answers the requirements in every way.

SPEEDWAY IS SUED FOR PAY BY WORKMEN

DETROIT, Dec. 16.—About sixty workmen, who were employed in the construction of the Detroit motor speedway, have started suit in the Wayne County Circuit Court for the collection of more than $3000, representing wages due them. The action is brought against the officers, directors and contractors. It is expected that other suits will follow.

OREGON HIGHWAYS ARE SPEEDWAYS IN WINTER

Miles of highways in Polk county, Oregon, have begun their service as winter speedways for motor cars. The hard gravel surface on the road between the Dalles and Salem has made possible fast travel and the traffic of jitneys and farmers' cars used for business trips is to be continued throughout the year. It is estimated that 100 miles will be in shape for winter travel this year.

TO INVESTIGATE ACCIDENTS

BOSTON, Dec. 16.—In an effort to try to dig deeper into the cause of motor accidents, the Massachusetts highway commission recently held an open examination for the position of examiner of accidents. A large number of applicants took the examination and after the new year, the commission will appoint several of the men, who rank highest, and start them investigating accidents throughout the state.

LIGHTING TROUBLES

Owners of cars wired by the single wire method should examine the ground connections carefully, at stated intervals. A corroded ground or a loose ground may cause dim burning and in some cases no current at all.

AUTOS COST RAIL LINES BIG MONEY

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Dec. 16.—

Alarmed by the steady decrease in earnings from passenger traffic, western railroads are exerting every effort to secure an increase in rates to counteract the falling off. It is generally agreed that the extensive use of motor cars is cutting into the revenues of all western lines. The street railway lines are suffering in proportion to the steam and interurban traction lines. The question is being asked: Why does the public prefer the motor car, although costing more for transportation than the rail lines? One reason that has been advanced refers to the all too frequent lack of courtesy displayed by the railway employees in waiting upon their patrons. American transportation companies have not yet succeeded in insuring their patrons against impolite treatment by their employees. In addition, the overcrowding of passengers in the cars of the steam and electric lines is a factor in driving many to the motor vehicles. There is a native pride and dignity in most Americans which rebels against lack of courtesy.

NANTUCKET MOTORING MAY BE PERMITTED

A change of heart has come over some of the residents of the little island of Nantucket off the Massachusetts coast, and they are planning to have the question of allowing motor cars on the island brought up at the next town meeting this winter. Some of the summer visitors, who bitterly opposed the admittance of motor cars, are not so opposed to them now and there is a prospect that they will be allowed on the island next year.

PORPORATO GOES TO ENGLAND

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—Jean Porporato, the Italian driver who chased prize money in the Sunbeam at Indianapolis and Chicago and then worked under Finley Porter on the F. R. P. cars, has sailed for England, where he will spend the winter in the Sunbeam plant, assembling military cars and aviation motors. He has practically closed arrangements with Louis Coatalen, the Sunbeam engineer and designer, for two Sunbeams that he will bring back to America with him in the spring. One of the cars is a four-cylinder machine with thirty-two overhead valves. The other is a six-cylinder model.

DECLARE BERGDOLL SANE

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 16.—Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, the motor car racer and aviator, was declared sane and capable of handling his fortune of $300,000 by a jury in proceedings brought by the young aviator's brother, Charles A. Bergdoll.
